G. O. P. CAMPAIGN EXPENSE BUDGET 3 MILLION

PICTURE OF CAMPAIGN "BEHIND THE SCENES" OPPOSITE GENERAL BELIEF

(BY PAUL R. MALLON)
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, October 17.—(By the United Press)—Behind the scenes the picture of this presidential campaign is just the opposite of what every one believes it to be.
Hurdling through the night over the prairies of Illinois, a special train is bearing the caravan of John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee. In the baggage car are a corps of stenographers, whirling away at a typewriter, and a corps of reporters, waiting for the evening's speech. In the next car newspaper men are hammering at baby portable typewriters, writing "the politics of the situation."
In his private car, John W. Davis is doing his nightly doze to the prompting of Jim Cullen, the prize fight manager who primed Bill Brennan, the late pugilist, for scores of ring battles over a period of six years. It is "Davis, the fighter" training for the next day's battle.

Chang Driven Beyond Wall

PEKING, October 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Chang Tso-Lin's Manchurian troops have been driven beyond the great wall, says an official communiqué.

NEW WARLORD OCCUPIES SHANGHAI

(By D. C. BESS)
SHANGHAI, October 17.—(By the United Press)—General Sun Chuanfang, near lord of Fukien, occupied Shanghai this afternoon and assumed control of the military district.
(Fang has been a lieutenant of general Chi Hsieh Yun, Kiangsu dictator and leader of the allied Kiangsu-Fukien troops which defeated General Lu Hsiang.)
The danger in Shanghai was considered ended but the population was still panicky and a thousand fearful civilians rushed the barbed wire enclosures around the foreign quarter during the afternoon. Many women and children were trampled before guards finally drove them back.
Fire damaged the Asolo House, largest foreign hotel in Shanghai early today. Hundreds of Chinese servants dashed from the burning building shouting that forces of little Hsu, the Asolo leader, were attacking the hotel. This caused a panic among the guests and they fled into the streets in night clothes and were unable to return for their belongings.
Negotiations are continuing for the surrender of 10,000 of the defeated Ching troops of General Lu still encamped outside Shanghai. They are expected to lay down their arms tomorrow.

Dry Agent And Bootlegger Shot

CLEVELAND, O., October 17.—(By the United Press)—Michael Clarke, 28, dry agent, and Frank Randazzo, 30, alleged bootlegger, are near death in a hospital here as a result of a gun battle between two dry agents and two alleged bootleggers.
The officers approached an auto in which the two subjects were sitting and started an argument. It became heated and both sides started shooting.
(The second suspect escaped in the auto and police failed to get his license number.)

Wear Women's Hats

VIENNA.—As a protest against the increasing popularity of mannish styles among women, a club of young business men of Vienna have agreed to wear women's hats on the streets for a period of six months. This is expected to shame the women who have strayed away from feminine modes of dress.

Columbus Chinese Fear Tong Killer

COLUMBUS, O., October 17.—(By the United Press)—Fearing an On Leon Tong killer was being sent to Columbus, Chinese here, all members of the Hip Sing Tong, have enlisted the aid of police, giving the officers the freedom of their most secret places.
The sending of a killer from some other city is a common practice of the On Lung organization, the Hip Sing charge.
Since Columbus is a strictly Hip Sing town, local members of the Tong fear they may be invaded at any moment as a part of the Tong war which has broken out recently in other eastern and mid-western cities.

Says Old Teachings Were Weakening

TOLEDO, O., October 17.—(By the United Press)—The old teaching that "children should be seen and not heard" was a weakening influence Miss Margaret T. McGuire, Philadelphia, principal of the T. McGuire school, said in an address before the 19th annual convention of the National Congress of Parent-Teachers' Association here.
Miss McGuire said she believed children should know why they obey. "Those who obey and do not know why, are apt to become factional men," she declared.
Miss McGuire also dwelt on the need for religious training in the schools, saying "the manner of concentrating entirely on education with none of the spiritual side brought in is a national danger."

WU REPORTED ON THE RUN

OSAKA, JAPAN, October 17.—(By the United Press)—Chang Tso-Lin's Manchurian troops completely occupied Shantai Kuan Gateway City in the great wall of China today and captured 1,000 Ching troops, according to Mukden dispatches.
A Manchurian detachment is reported pursuing Wu Pei-fu's troops towards Chin Wang Tung.

TRAFFIC TOLL MOUNTS

CLEVELAND, O., October 17.—(By the United Press)—The death list here last night of Mrs. Ella Albertson, 65, and Mrs. Hazel Pickford, 128, brought the traffic toll in Cleveland, since January 1, to 130.

SILENT AIRPLANES

BERLIN.—A silent air fleet is the dream of German aviation experts. A plane that makes practically no noise as it moves through the air has been developed by a group of Berlin engineers. Squadrons of silent air raiders would add grave difficulties to the problems of air defense, it has been pointed out.

Rotarians To Spend $100,000

CLEVELAND.—Rotarians will spend approximately $100,000 to make the International Convention here next June a success. Dr. Harry Fish Sayre, Pennsylvania, announced.

In another train crossing the endless wheat fields of the Dakotas is a far different picture. The stenographers are there, the newspaper men are there but in the private car that swings on the end sits Robert M. LaFollette, nearly seventy years old, with his sons, Philip and Robert Jr., and other advisors grouped around a table in a smoke-filled compartment.
His physician, Dr. Colver, a throat specialist, is asleep in an adjoining cupboard-like room, while his patient—whom some said would break under the strain of incessant campaigning—is staying up planning the morning's battles. It is LaFollette, the careful politician.

"I think I could match Davis with Jack Dempsey tomorrow," Cullen told the United Press.
"Senator LaFollette's health shows not the slightest impairment, and his condition is perfect," Dr. Colver said.

Traveling with each of the candidates in their campaign has developed evidences of their opposing tactics. LaFollette prepares set speeches and he reads from his manuscript with his son nearby to see that he doesn't unwittingly over-exert himself. Davis speaks without preparation. He sizes up his audience when he goes before them, and in a few moments decides upon his methods of attack.

On the platform LaFollette is full of fire. Davis is quiet and careful of his diction. His advisers recently accused him of a "supreme court manner" and asked him to "take off his kid gloves." But his answer was: "I am not that kind of a campaigner and I don't want to be that kind of a president."

But behind the scenes their positions are reversed and Davis will go on sparring with his prize fighter—masseur and LaFollette thrashing out "the dope" with his keen-witted sons.

David Lawrence Tells How He Secures Information On Which He Bases Political Prophecy

(This is the concluding dispatch of a series of three analyzing political sentiment in the West after a trip of thirty days of actual investigation. Mr. Lawrence now is making a study of the east preparatory to writing a dispatch daily on the trend in the east.)

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1924 by Times Publishing Co.)
MIDWEST AMERICA, Oct. 17.—How, it may be asked, can any correspondent in a quiet journey across the continent, stopping a day or two in a state, gauge the political sentiment there? What is the value of pre-election polls and analysis made by itinerant reporters?
These are natural questions and are asked in every campaign whenever any correspondent undertakes the risks of political prophecy. Since the writer began his tour, for instance, he has not of one or two comments that he did not visit in a particular state the Democratic or Republican, or LaFollette headquarters. As a matter of fact this correspondent deliberately avoided most of the campaign managers of all parties.

There are political chieftains, of course, who are honest with their callers and there are others who try purposefully to mislead in hope that the dispatch writer will have a certain effect on their local situation. Then there are political leaders who express candid convictions but they are sometimes misled by their own information.

Not always knowing the personal equation of these local managers for as a rule they change with every campaign, it has always been considered better policy by this writer to waste no time with men who merely wish to pump him full of propaganda for their own ends. Out in Nebraska, for instance, where Frank Harrison, regional manager for the La Follette forces, was visited, it took about two minutes to discover that he regarded the calls of all correspondents as simply a splendid opportunity to broadcast his own case.

Have then does a correspondent operate who enters a campaign with the sole desire of getting the facts and without any desire to affect the outcome or to take sides? It is a problem of acquaintance and friendship over a period of many years with men who will not mislead, who endeavor to appraise a situation honestly. It is, of course, unthinkable that any correspondent can in a day's visit know as much about any state as the people living in it. But there are personal residents in every state who are saturated with their own situation, who know from year to year what is likely to happen in politics, persons of balanced judgment and wide acquaintance, persons who mingle with all classes of people. Their analysis counts for a great deal with this correspondent. It has proved sound in the campaigns of previous years.

Again and again on the local newspapers are shrewd political reporters who watch the various headquarters from day to day who can tell you in five minutes whether a campaign manager is whistling to keep up his courage or really convinced his figures are correct. In other cases one finds mutual friends of these same campaign managers to whom at the lunch or dinner table on previous occasions the inside story has been told. In other words the task of gathering information on politics is the same as it is in anything else—a reporter's job is in finding out who really is "in the know" and piecing together the viewpoints of several people.

In one city, this correspondent has five friends whose views on politics do not agree. One is a lawyer, another a banker, and one is a labor leader, a fourth is a settlement house worker and a fifth is prominent in fraternal circles. Before visiting that city, letters were written appraising each of the date the writer would arrive. They had always kept their ears to the ground. In that state the writer has never made a pre-

White Replies To Hecklers; Routs Them At Speech

EMPORIA, KANS., October 17.—(By the United Press)—William Allen White, who is stirring Kansas with his attacks on the Ku Klux Klan while stumping the state in his second hand automobile as independent candidate for governor, routed his first hecklers in an address here Thursday.
The fiery Emporia editor warned his hearers that he intended to step on some one's toes and followed his remark by the assertion that the Klan was a "cowardly, traitorous outfit."

The names of President Coolidge and United States Senator Arthur Capper came in for discussion.
"What did the president ever say against the Klan?" White was asked.
"He authorized the statement he was not a member of the Klan and was not in sympathy with it," White replied.

"Why don't you say something about Capper?" another heckler fired at the speaker.
"Since I'm not twins, I must take only one at a time," White shot back, adding that his fight was against Ben Paulsen, Republican gubernatorial candidate.

"You Kluxers didn't have any more to do with this novelization of Capper than you did with the nomination of Coolidge," was White's parting shot. "You're just hanging on the coat-tails of a mighty fat goat."

HAS PERFECT RECORD

HAVANA.—Manuel Astorga Y. So-perinas, chief of the claims department of the United Railways of Havana, recently completed 20 years of service with the company without being absent a single day. Three months' vacation, with pay, are his reward. He started work at the age of 13 as a clerk.

MANY PHONES OUT OF ORDER

YOUNGSTOWN, O., October 17.—(By the United Press)—Inspectors from the state public utilities commission found 700 telephones out of order in the first 3,000 inspection in the residential districts here.

When Bomb Exploded in Army Blimp, TC-2

Here is the wreck of the TC-2, army blimp which crashed to earth at Langley Field, Newport News, Va., when a bomb exploded. Lieutenant Bruce R. Martin died of injuries. Others of the crew owe their lives to the fact that the balloon was filled with helium instead of highly explosive hydrogen.

German Premier Marx To Resign

(By CARL D. GROOT)
BERLIN, October 17.—(By the United Press)—Resignation of Chancellor Marx on announcement by President Ebert of dissolution of the Reichstag was expected today.
The patience of both politicians and the populace is exhausted, the charged air and his colleagues being accused of lack of ability to make important decisions.

Everywhere it is admitted that dissolution is the sole satisfactory way out of the present internal difficulties and that a general election must soon come. The cabinet met to attempt to reach a decision regarding its resignation.

AL JOLSON MAKES COOLIDGE LAUGH OUT LOUD AT SOME OF HIS JOKES

WASHINGTON, October 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Presidential and stage hours clashed this morning at the White House and at the conclusion of two hours of merry battle it was declared a draw. John Drew, Al Jolson and about 40 other members of the Coolidge and Daves stage club won in determining the hour for a breakfast engagement by arriving at the White House at 6:30 after the president had awaited an hour and a half past his usual breakfast time.

Mr. Coolidge stepped from the arena of wit and fun, however, promptly at 10:30 to meet the cabinet at the regular hour, just as his guests in the midst of a serene were joining in the chorus of "Keep Coolidge."

It was a lively morning both in the breakfast room and later on the White House lawn, where the visitors entertained Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge not only with songs but with impromptu speeches.
Jolson mixed in a few "presidential jokes" and was successful in his threat to make Mr. Coolidge "laugh out loud."

When it came to the singing of campaign songs, Mrs. Coolidge joined in with an enthusiastic soprano.
Before departing for the cabinet meeting, the president expressed his gratitude for his visit and asked his callers that the doors of the White House were open to them "at least until March 4."

HULL, ENGLAND.—Boxing is prohibited in Hull except for women. As a result, feminine exhibitions of the "manly art" are now attracting hundreds of fans to various ring-sides every week day night. Hull is developing a crop of women boxers to send to America.

"WHAT IS WOOD?"

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—The age-old question—"what is wood?"—that has long baffled scientists, may be answered by the x-ray spectograph in the hands of Dr. O. L. Sponner, botanist in the University of California. Under the x-ray wood now yields a series of remarkable line photographs which may shed new light on its chemical architecture.

Killed In Runaway

TIFFIN.—Injuries received in a runaway accident near McCutcheonville caused the death of Adam Miller, 75.

Civilization Doomed Unless World Returns To Christianity

(By the United Press)—Civilization is doomed unless a return from materialism to the spiritual values of Christianity is effected, speakers said at last night's session of the international convention of Disciples of Christ.
Miss Louella St. Clair Moss, a director of the denomination's board of education, and Dr. Hugh H. Magill, general secretary of the International Council of Religious Education, were the principal speakers, and both declared that America needs saving from paganism and infidelity.

"One of the greatest evils facing our civilization, is child marriages," declared Miss Moss. "Girls and boys of 17 marry as casually as though they had just made a date for a movie."
She attributed this situation to lack of Christianity in the home.

H. H. Potter, addressing the assembly, declared the only hope of saving the country's churches lay in combining them. He advocated establishment of three experimental country churches, run on the same principle that the government runs experimental farms.

Woman And Her "Perfect Passionate Love" Marry

CHICAGO, October 17.—(By the United Press)—Mrs. Shirley Knox Hall-Quest and her "perfect passionate love," Frederick W. Hart, principals in a double divorce, now are united in matrimony. They were married here last night and left for the home of the bride's parents in Minneapolis.

Dr. Alfred Lawrence Hall-Quest, university professor, divorced his wife here two weeks ago to clear the way for her marriage with Hart. Mrs. Ronald Hart divorced her husband in Cincinnati, charging abandonment.
Hart and Mrs. Hall-Quest met here last night for the first time since the professor secured his divorce. Mrs. Hall-Quest slipped out of the city from the apartment she occupied with Hart when the affair became public property.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Somerset Hotel by Judge Dennis E. Sullivan. Witnesses were a girl from Hart's office here, a business associate and a newspaper reporter.
The bride broke down and cried at the conclusion of the ceremony, and Hart put his arms about her. The pair plan to spend their honeymoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Knox, who are understood to have forgiven their daughter and Hart.

SPOTTED HANDS

LONDON.—The "spotted hand" case is the newest murder mystery to baffle London police. The hands of a man found murdered in a hotel here were completely dotted with small yellow spots, and rumors of a black-clad woman who climbed down a rope from another room in the hotel on the night of the shooting have heightened interest in the mystery.

SEE VEILED WIVES

PLYMOUTH, ENG.—A large crowd gathered at the dock to witness the arrival of the Emir of Katsina, one of the ruling princes of Nigeria, and his two wives. The two wives were heavily veiled and closely guarded, and appeared on shore on the signal for loud cheering and laughter.

Butler Tells Probers That Is Considered "Modest Sum"

CHICAGO, October 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The Republican national campaign organization, inasmuch as it is possible to collect an additional $1,300,000 to carry on its work between now and election day, William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, testified today before the special senate campaign fund investigating committee.

This sum would make up the $3,000,000 budget which the Republican campaign committee decided at the outset of the campaign would be necessary for the conduct of what Butler denominated as a "vigorous campaign."

"That is a modest amount in view of expenditures that have been made heretofore," President Coolidge's field marshal told the committee.
Chairman Borah inquired as to the uses to which the funds had been put, and Mr. Butler said it was used by the various bureaus within the organization.

"Are there any organizations which are raising money and expending it for the Republican ticket other than your own organization?" asked Senator Borah.
"None that I am aware of except the different state organizations," Butler replied.

Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, took over the examination.
"Are you the sole authority when it comes to the question of what shall or shall not be done with the funds raised?" he was asked.
"That's a difficult question to answer," Butler replied. "I take the advice of other people."

"But you are the final authority?" pursued Senator Caraway. "You can answer that yes or no."
"Yes, that's right," the national chairman said.
"When you made the estimate at the start of the campaign did you decide how much was to be spent on publicity?"

"Yes." "In the language of the street—money talks," remarked Caraway.
"I think so," answered Butler.
Caraway then asked whether the proposed raise of $500,000 in Massachusetts, Butler's home state, met with his approval.

"No, it does not," Butler replied. He explained the proposal to raise $500,000 in that state came from a manufacturer and did not meet with the approval of the national Republican committee.
The proposed $500,000 in Pennsylvania did not meet with his approval either, Butler replied in answer to a question from Borah.

Senator Caraway inquired about the letter of the Massachusetts manufacturer inviting contributions to the Republican campaign in excess of the legal amount with a promise that the contributions would be "covered up."
Mr. Butler declared the Republican organization not only had nothing to do with that but disapproved of it.

The Arkansas senator then wanted to know about the part assigned Joseph R. Grundy of Bristol, Pa., to raise $300,000 in Pennsylvania.
Mr. Butler said the national organization had not approved of a letter sent out by Grundy soliciting funds.

When Mr. Butler said he had addressed a luncheon meeting in Philadelphia about the time $500,000 in Washington, at which Grundy was present.
"You fixed the budget at $3,000,000?" said Senator Caraway, "and you called on Pennsylvania for $500,000 or one-fifth of the amount, why was that?"

Mr. Butler started to explain and Senator Caraway broke in:
"Pennsylvania is a fruitful field," he asked.
"I had hoped so," Butler replied.

Illinois was put down for $400,000 of the total for a similar reason. Senator Caraway remarked that if the Republican organization had gone on the same record it would have received more than a billion dollars.

BOY HIT BY TRUCK; NECK BROKEN; DIES; CORONER ABSOLVES DRIVER FROM BLAME

A broken neck and fractured skull sustained by Charles Reinger, ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reinger, 1813 Milbert Road, about 4:30 Thursday afternoon when run over by an auto truck about a square from his home, resulted in his death within a few minutes, the lad passing away in the home of Mrs. J. H. Haislet before physicians arrived. The broken neck or fracture at the base of the skull was serious enough to cause death, according to Coroner Virgil Fowler, who investigated the accident.

Gilbert Harris, driver of the John A. General grocery truck that ran over the boy, was exonerated from all blame when playmates of the accident victim gave to Coroner Fowler their versions of the accident, explaining how the boy coasted on roller skates down a driveway and out into the street directly into the path of the machine.

Emmett Papas and Myrtle Hager, playmates of the Reinger boy, were eye-witnesses to the accident. According to their stories, the accident victim, who had been roller skating on the cement sidewalk in that block found that the driveway, which has considerable slant to it, afforded a splendid coasting place. He had coasted down the driveway from the front yard of a home across the sidewalk and into the street several times before the fatal trip. A touring car parked within a foot or two of the driveway prevented the driver of the truck from seeing the boy until he shot out from behind the parked machine and directly into the path of the truck. The truck and boy were so close together when Harris first noticed the lad that it was impossible for him to turn far enough to one side to avoid striking the boy.

Neck Broken

After being knocked down one of the wheels of the machine passed over the boy's neck. Harris jumped out of the truck to go to the boy's side, but before he could pick him up, Mrs. J. H. Haislet, told of the accident by a young niece, and took the boy in her arms. She carried him into her home, where Mrs. C. A. Hager, a neighbor, assisted in caring for the boy. According to the two women, the lad breathed only a few times after he was carried into the house. When Drs. Oscar Melby and Albert Terrell arrived they found the boy beyond human aid.

Riding in the truck with Harris, were his sister, Nellie Harris, Merle Wheeler and Ethel Skages.

Coroner Conducts Inquest.
After the arrival of physicians, Coroner Virgil Fowler was called, and conducted an investigation into the case. The coroner examined eye-witnesses, and talked with the driver and occupants of the car, afterward rendering a verdict of "accidental death."

After the inquest, the remains were removed to the Daubler morgue. Attended Garfield School.

Charles was a pupil in the Third B grade of the Garfield school, where he was well liked by teachers and pupils.

Besides the grief stricken parents, the lad is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Edward, 12;

Alberta, 14; Louise, 17; Nettie, 20;

and a baby sister, Ruth.

From all accounts of the accident the driver of the car was not driving at an excessive rate of speed but residents of the neighborhood state that "Mabel Road," with no intersecting streets is more or less of a speedway and that it is only a matter of good fortune that many accidents have not occurred.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home at 2:30 Saturday afternoon and will be in charge of Rev. C. M. Hoverton. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

Rev. Harold Holt Addresses Rotary Club

The address before the Rotary Club, meeting last night in the Elks parlors, was given by Rev. Harold Holt, who stressed the need of high ideals and a turning away from the self interest which is so evident in the world today. In part Mr. Holt said:

"It is not the fine hidden qualities of one's self that are always overlooked but those which are so plainly obvious, that we fail to place a premium on. You men with your high standard of accomplishment have within your power the opportunity of establishing the criterion of a loyal community spirit and I am most sincere in my appeal that you foster and develop these Rotary principles."

Lecture Course Opens Tuesday

The lecture course season will open Tuesday at the High School with the Metropolitan Grand Quartet, which is known as one of the best men's singing organizations before the public. The quartet is coached by Tom Lane of Cleveland, who it will be remembered is the original organizer of the old Metropolitan Quartet, which was for years known as "America's finest."

Each of the singers in the quartet are soloists of distinction and have been carefully chosen for their part by the director. A year ago the Metropolitan quartet began a coast to coast tour, stopping for engagements in most of the larger cities of the country, and their appearances were met with unlimited success.

A large crowd is expected to attend the concert in the high school auditorium. Persons who have not yet bought their tickets may get them at the high school.

Bandit Confesses He Robbed Bank, Slayed Penna. State Trooper

READING, Pa., Oct. 17.—Philip A. Hartman, Annapolis, Pennsylvania today confessed to the police, they said, that he held up and robbed the State Bank at Abbotstown, Pa., Tuesday afternoon, and when pursued by state police shot and killed Trooper Francis L. Haney.

Hartman four hours previously had voluntarily walked into the police station first told the authorities that he had been "hired as a chauffeur by George Roth, of Columbus, Ohio," who, he said, actually did the shooting. He said he wished to tell what he knew about the crime.

Chief of Police Harry H. Stroble Jr., and Captain of Police R. Hayes McKinney questioned the man and after midnight, they said he broke down and admitted he had planned the robbery himself, was alone when he committed the crime and shot the state trooper when he was cornered.

Epimard At Laurel

LAUREL, MD., Oct. 17.—Epimard, the famous French horse, arrived at the Laurel Race Track safely today from Latonia. With him came Lakko, Diagram and Blind Play.

According to Eugene Leigh, his trainer, Epimard comes to fill his engagements in the $10,000 Laurel Stakes which will be run next Saturday and the $25,000 Washington handicap which will be decided November 1.

EYES OF SCIENCE

Only a few much-favored eyes of men of science have been privileged to look upon vitamins, yet everybody must have these nutrition factors in abundance to assure growth and sustain strength.

Scott's Emulsion

What one Woman learned 35 Years ago

Years ago when the first spoonful of Calumet Baking Powder was used, one housewife learned the secret of success on bake-day. She found that what she had thought bad luck in the past was really the fault of inferior leaveners.

Over a third of a century has passed since that housewife experienced the perfect results that came from using

CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

Today millions upon millions have realized the same satisfaction that goes with using a perfect baking powder.

Calumet has more friends than any of the other brands on the market today—women who after one trial found that for uniform, wholesome bakings it has no equal.

Don't forget that a few cents worth of unreliable baking powder can ruin several dollars worth of other ingredients used in baking. Use the best and know what the results will be.

C. E. Convention Opens In Jackson; Many Local Delegates Are In Attendance

Headed by District President John A. Lloyd, a good sized delegation of Portsmouth and Scioto county Christian Endeavorers left Second Presbyterian church at 8:30 o'clock this morning for Jackson, where the second semi-annual convention of the Southern Ohio Christian Endeavor Union will be held today and Saturday. Jackson C. E. members announced yesterday that all plans had been completed for the big meeting and that no matter how large the number of delegates and visitors they would be entertained in the homes of members in Jackson.

The first conference of the two-day convention was held at 11 o'clock this morning when the Board of Trustees met for luncheon at the Cambrian hotel. At two o'clock this afternoon the convention proper was called to order.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Do you think five or six years is too great a difference in the ages of a young man and woman who are contemplating marriage? People tell me I am too old to marry, a man younger than myself, but I can't see it that way. I am 40, and the man I am going with is 35, but he looks every day as old as I am, and he thinks he is as old. You know a woman never tells her exact age after she passes thirty. She remains stationary after that until she reaches seventy or eighty and she doesn't care then who knows her age. I think after a man passes fifty he is almost in his dotage, while a woman seems to react and begins to get young again. In this day of cosmetics and beauty parlors she keeps herself looking like a sixteen-year-old always, and that is what I plan to do, and I am going to put one over on my would-be husband regardless of what others think about it. Dolly, one is only as old as they feel, anyway. Years don't mean anything in my young life even though I am fair, free and forty. What do you think about it?

—YOUTHFUL OLD MAID.
If you feel like a two-year-old and look like a sixteen-year-old, there is no reason why you should not marry the man you have in mind. Congenality is more a matter of like tastes and opinions than of age anyway.

Many couples are happy with greater discrepancy of years on the wrong side than you mention, but of course there is need to be extra sure that the mutual attractions is strong enough to stand the test of married life. That's the question each couple must decide for themselves.

Dear Dolly—Since you are called upon to answer all kinds of questions I am going to ask a little information about airplanes. I would like to know how many horsepower can a propeller stand without flying to pieces.

—HIG SCHOOL BOY.
Engines are now built for aircraft up to 1,000 horsepower, and these drive screws, tractor or propellers, direct or indirect, as the case may be. Screws fly to pieces only when hit or when they are defective or become defective, and that's that.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 17 and a senior in the high school. I have been going with a young man four years, my senior for about one year. I thought I liked him real well, but I find there is another young man in this town whom I like better. Dolly, when I don't see the first boy I worry about it, and when I do see him I don't seem to care much about him.

Now, Dolly, please give me your advice.

—FICKLE FATTIE.
You are taking these friendships much too seriously for a high school girl. It is all right to be friendly with boys, but do not allow either to monopolize you. Very likely you won't marry either of them, so be a little careful about wearing your heart on your sleeve.

—BLUE EYES.
A motor party from this city, who had the pleasure of hearing Miss Dorothy Cline in recital at the M. E. church in Sciotoville last evening were Mrs. Roy Rheinfrank, Mrs. Earl Rheinfrank, Mrs. Lloyd T. Henderson, Mrs. Ollie W. Peed, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Sheridan and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Cline.

A daughter was born Thursday evening at Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Simon S. Lehman (Julia Haas). Mrs. Lehman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Haas, of Hutchins street.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Well, well, well! Good-morning, everybody!" said a cheery voice.

"It is too queer what became of the House that Jack Built!" remarked Mister Spratt at the breakfast table.

"It certainly is," said Mrs. Spratt, helping herself to another piece of bacon.

"You don't suppose—" said Daddy Gander, "that Peter Peter could have taken it, do you?"

"Peter Peter?" cried Mrs. Spratt. "Why should he take it?"

"Well," said Daddy Gander with a wise wag of his head, "they say that after he got married he hadn't a cent to live on and he had to put his wife into a pumpkin shell."

"Daddy Gander, you're an old gossip," said Mrs. John. "Peter Peter didn't take our house any more than he did the moon. Why, only yesterday Mrs. Peter told me how happy she was when she came to get my recipe for pumpkin-pies. Just give Peter Peter a chance. He's young yet and it isn't everybody who is as smart as my Jack and can build a house. Oh, hoo hoo! I forgot! Our nice little house is gone and I'll never see it any more."

"Fiddlesticks!" said Daddy Gander. "Well, find it for you, my goodness! You'd think you had lost a diamond ring, or something you could hide behind a potato-skin. A house! Why, my goodness, it ought to be as easy to find as a stone-bruise! Come on, Twins. Here's my magic dust pan. Hop on and we'll hunt for the House that Jack Built!"

Miss Dorothy Cline of Jackson street visited in Ironton this morning, where she will give several readings at the Christian Endeavor convention which opened there today.

More than one hundred and twenty-five girls attended the first of a series of informal parties to be given for the women members of the County Club on Thursday afternoon.

Fifteen tables were placed in the dining rooms for the pleasure of those who played bridge, and the other guests were found in informal groups in the living-room and on the veranda, enjoying a perfect autumn day, busying themselves with bits of needle-work and music.

Favors for scoring were given to Mrs. H. C. Spangler, Mrs. Chris Lier and Mrs. J. S. Hardin. Among the guests, was Mrs. Howard Allerton, of New York City, who is visiting with the Misses Knowles of Second street, Mrs. H. C. Walter, of Bluefield, Mrs. J. T. Carey, of Rome, Va., Mrs. Roy Brown and daughter, Miss Dorothy Dick, of Washington, Court House. At four o'clock all assembled in the living-room, in the north end of which was arranged a table for the serving of refreshments.

A basket of huge pink dahlias was used as an effective centerpiece, while candle-sticks holding tall pink tapers were placed on either end. Mrs. A. E. Everard and Mrs. C. C. Taylor presided at the coffee urns, while dainty sandwiches, little cakes, bon-bons and coffee were served by Misses Pauline Ruhlman, Janet Richardson, Katherine Knowles, Jane Pressler, Helen Teley and Janet Miller.

The affair proved such a decided success, that the ladies are looking forward to other parties of this nature during the winter. The committee in charge of Thursday's tea included, Mrs. D. A. Jernitt, Mrs. H. C. Bugh and Mrs. Felix Haas.

Mrs. F. M. Haupt of Court street entertained a party of her friends at her home on Wednesday afternoon for the club meeting. After the series of games, favors were given to Mrs. Arthur Deake and Mrs. C. H. Samson for scoring. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Harry Knost, Mrs. Murray McCoy and Mrs. C. H. Samson. The members present were Mrs. Loren Cunningham, Mrs. Clifford Zellers, Mrs. Walter Elmsdale, Mrs. Arthur Deake, Mrs. Annabel Atkins, Mrs. George McCall, Mrs. Norman McGinnis, Mrs. Clifford Baker and Miss Laura Bodmer.

Mrs. Norman McGinnis will be the hostess of the next meeting.

Mrs. Stanley Johnson of Summit street, who was operated in Hopstead Hospital last Monday, is getting along nicely.

The Philanthropic Class of the First Baptist church will meet next Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the home of Misses Bess and Sarah Maguet, 1512 Franklin avenue. The assistant hostesses will include Mrs. Nell Miller, Mrs. Garnet Morrow, Mrs. B. F. Shoemaker, Mrs. May Shaffer, Mrs. Earl Mumper, Mrs. Leona Kaze, Mrs. F. E. Spence, Mrs. Helen Shankweiler, Mrs. Daisy Mays, Mrs. T. O. Brown, Mrs. Carl Wynne, Miss Dolly Johnson, Miss Nellie Hobbetter, Mrs. Mary Bailey and Miss Grace Sisson. The election of officers will be held at this time.

The members of the Matron and Maid club are looking forward to a meeting next Tuesday at the Ardell.

Mrs. Howard O. Newman of Second street will entertain the members of the Holmes club this evening for a Get-Together meeting at 8:15.

Group 6 of the Trinity Ladies Aid Society will hold a bake-sale Saturday at Market.

Mrs. Myrtle P. McElhane and daughter Garnet have returned to Cincinnati, where Miss Garnet will resume her studies with the Spaulding college after spending the summer vacation with Mrs. McElhane's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marsh (Clara Pollock), Lucasville, West Side.

A bake-sale will be held Saturday beginning at 1:30 by the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The sale will be held at the Kay-Graham store and the members will offer all kinds of good things to eat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben White and children, Sarah and Chester of Fourteenth street and their guests, Misses Mary and Opal Walton of West Virginia, and Mrs. John Hag of this city, motored to Beaver recently and visited with Mrs. White's father, Mr. John Stoll and sister, Mrs. Jacob Kountz.

Miss Alma Moore, a popular member of the Amelita Club, was given a pleasant surprise by the members of the club recently while she was visiting at the home of her parents in Minford, the celebration being in honor of her birthday anniversary. The club members and friends formed a motor party and went to the home of Miss Moore, where they enjoyed a delightful evening of games, music, dancing and a radio concert. They brought with them delicious refreshments, which were served before their departure for home. A feature of the evening was a large white birthday cake decorated with the requisite number of candles, and covers were laid for the following:

Misses Alma Moore, Ness Towns, Edna Fiddler, Mr. and Mrs. Moore and sons Jack and Manuel. Messrs. Russell McPerron, Edna Chandler, Willard Schillinger, Harri Klein and Marcus McPerron.

Mrs. Clarence P. Mittendorf has returned to her home in Ironton after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bugh of Kneys Lane.

The ladies of the First Lutheran church will give a bake sale tomorrow afternoon, beginning at one o'clock, in the Cut-Rate Meat Market, Gallia and Gay streets. All kinds of home-made baked goods will be on sale at reasonable prices.

The Home League Club met yesterday afternoon at the country home of Theodore O. Shump, in Sciotoville, with Mrs. Winifred Bennett as the assistant hostess.

It was a typical Indian summer day, very much in keeping with the Indian program which was ably presented.

Mrs. S. S. Halderman had charge of the devotional and the club answered to roll-call by giving Indian names in United States.

Mrs. J. Hochman Pick read an interesting paper on the Indian Mounds in Ohio. Mrs. F. H. Daily sang "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water (Gadum), and "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lacourne).

Mrs. G. T. Elliott read an educational paper on "The Indians in American History."

Playing her own accompaniment, Miss Esther Severinghaus sang "My Silver Throated Swan," by Leander.

The musical program was in charge of Mrs. Winifred Bennett and Mrs. G. Monroe Howerton was chairman for the afternoon. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Shump was assisted in serving a light refreshment course by her two daughters, Mrs. Winifred Bennett and Mrs. J. W. Hufschmidt.

Mrs. Myrtle P. McElhane and daughter Garnet have returned to Cincinnati, where Miss Garnet will resume her studies with the Spaulding college after spending the summer vacation with Mrs. McElhane's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marsh (Clara Pollock), Lucasville, West Side.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THRILLS OF INDIA

The tower man apparently saw the elephant at the same time that Jack did, for he loudly cried out: "There's a tiger!" That's what Jack thought at first, but he soon saw that the elephant was a guide sitting on the animal's neck.

Just behind the elephant driver, or mahout, as they call them in India, there was a little box-like affair strapped to the elephant's back. Standing in this was the tiger hunter. The great elephant slowly walked up to the tower and the mahout slid down off the elephant.

Flap raced around the elephant and barked, while Flap scampered up the tower house steps to join his master, Jack's friend, the bear hunter, who also climbed to the tower house. Then the tower man told the tiger hunter that there were tiger tracks leading toward the east. (Continued.)

Strong Wellston Eleven Plays Here Sunday

The strong Wellston football team will have a chance to stage a comeback when they stack their wares against the Smoke House eleven on the Millbrook field Sunday afternoon. The Smoke House players beat Wellston 7-6, when the two teams met a short time ago in Wellston. The Coal Barons held the highly touted Murray City Tigers to one touchdown.

The local team this year is made up largely of both High School and College stars, who have played football enough to know the ins and outs of the game. In the backfield, instead of having one plugging fullback it might be said that there are three on the Smoke House squad. With Noble Lett, Pfau and Steve holding the full and half positions and Jimmy Taylor running the team from the quarter.

Eagles To Celebrate Armistice Day

Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles last night discussed plans for Armistice Day. Oscar Frank, Oliver Peed, Silas Weeks and Dr. Joseph Hill were named on a committee to make that night. Plans were discussed for a class initiation and banquet to be held Thanksgiving Day.

Jelly Is Used For New Purpose

ASHLAND, Ky., Oct. 17.—Fire Chief Burns Hensley this morning extinguished a blaze in an Avondale home with a pan of apple jelly that he found cooking on the kitchen stove.

Find No Trace Of Insurance Agent

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—The black and white found at a fishing camp and believed to have been the property of Asher L. Pickens, missing Cincinnati insurance agent, was identified today by a prisoner at the city jail as his discarded headgear.

"Los Angeles" To Be Name Of ZR-3

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The ZR-3 was declared today by Secretary Wilbur speaking in behalf of the navy, to be a symbol of peace and friendship between her builders, her owners and other nations.

To further define her role, he said the ship would be re-christened "Los Angeles" when the government formally takes possession.

Mr. Wilbur's announcement was made in the course of a speech at a luncheon to Dr. Hugo Eckener, head of the German Zeppelin Company, and several executive officers of the air cruiser during their visit today to Washington. The party was received by President Coolidge, who reiterated the congratulations he had telegraphed on the arrival of the ZR-3 at Lakehurst.

After a conference with the national advisory council for aeronautics, returned to Lakehurst, N. J., tonight to resume supervision of activities at the field.

Holycross Cheered By Court Spectators

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17.—Former Sheriff Frank T. Holycross was found not guilty of charges of illegal possession and transportation of liquor by Justice of the Peace A. C. Kuhn today.

The decision was greeted by applause and cheering from the crowd which filled the little court room.

Friends of the former sheriff surrounded him and he walked from the court room in a sort of a triumphal procession.

Declaring the charges but another in a "series of attacks that had emanated from the same source," during Holycross' "stormy career" in office, C. D. Savier, the defense counsel characterized state witnesses as "villains of perjury, aided and abetted by the powers of the state to persecute in a venemous spirit some person they had animus against."

"Prostitutes and hirelings have been brought here to drag down and disgrace a citizen," he declared. "Never in the history of this court has an assortment from the gutter been paraded through halls of justice more frequently than the gutter rats that have given testimony in this trial."

The prosecution, he said, was "by a private interest, backed by a great political power."

Defending his own witnesses, he said Mrs. Myrtle Denzer must have been a woman of strong character to resist when "Evans growled at her like a grizzly bear" threats of imprisonment, unless she aided him, and slapped at T. B. Jarvis of the Anti-Saloon League who prosecuted the case, with a sarcastic allusion to the statement of Mrs. Denzer that Jarvis had "fouled her hands" when she was brought into the state prohibition office to be examined.

Naval Officer Burned To Death In Plane

GLENDALE, Cal., Oct. 17.—A naval officer, identified as Lieutenant Commander Gratian C. Dierman of the air service at San Diego, was burned to death here late today when flames destroyed his plane after it struck a small building.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 17.—Two fliers were killed and another narrowly escaped death in an airplane collision over Coronado. Lieutenant Kerr met instant death and the second pilot when taken from the wreckage could not be identified.

Seven Minor Party Tickets In Indiana Excluded By Court

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—A permanent injunction to prevent the board of election commissioners from placing the tickets of seven minor political parties on the state election ballots, issued this morning by Judge James M. Leathers of the local superior court, was modified this afternoon to exclude the ticket of the Workers Party of America from the provisions of the injunction. The ticket contains only two candidates for electors at large, without mentioning the name of the presidential candidate. As the order stands six tickets can now be placed on the ballots.

The parties excluded from the ballot by the provisions of the injunction are Socialist-Labor, National-Independent, Commonwealth-Land, American, Progressive-Independent, and Farmer-Labor.

The six parties which will have places on the ballot are Democratic, Republican, LaFollette-Progressive, Socialist, Prohibition and Workers Party.

Woman Accused With Youthful Lover Of Killing Spouse On Trial

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., Oct. 17.—With all women and children excluded from the court room by order of Judge Potter, the alleged love messages of Ralph Shadel, 18 year old farm hand, to Mrs. Annie S. Willow, on trial accused jointly with Shadel of murdering her husband, were read to the jury today. The notes are alleged to have been written in jail after the arrest of both Shadel and Mrs. Willow.

Mrs. Willow was the only woman in the court room to hear them and she hung her head as they were read. She wept, and her father, a rugged tiller of the soil, edged near to her to give her comfort in her ordeal.

The court asked the newspapermen not to quote from any of the messages.

A dozen women of the neighborhood where the Willows lived, testified character witnesses. They agreed that her reputation had been good.

Constipation is ruinous to children— keep yours healthy with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation undermines a child's health. It saps his energy and makes him listless. It can lead to more than 40 other serious diseases. Mothers should take immediate steps to remove, safely and surely, the dangerous poisons from his system.

Kellogg's Bran—because it is ALL bran—brings permanent relief. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is universally recommended by doctors. They know it brings results.

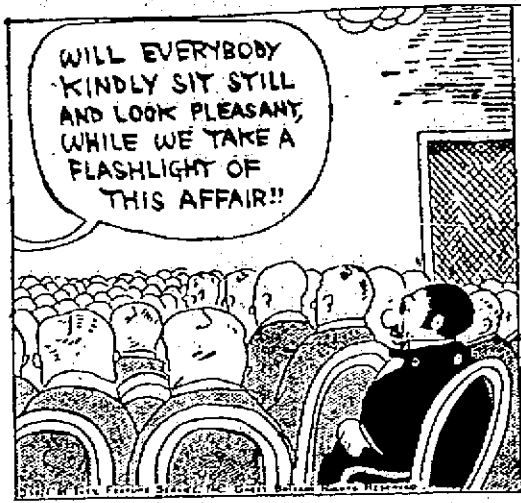

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to give permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Kellogg's Bran acts on the intestines exactly as nature acts. It sweeps and cleans and purifies them. It makes them function naturally and regularly. It allows you to discontinue forever the use of harmful, habit-forming drugs and pills.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is a delightful surprise to the taste—particularly if one has tried ordinary unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran has an exclusive flavor, not like any other cereal or cooked with milk or cream, spinning over other cereals or cooked with hot cereals. Try it in bread, muffins, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

Have your children eat it regularly—two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Kellogg's Bran is made at Battle Creek and sold at all grocers. It is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant.

The Affair at Flower Acres

© 1924 M. A. Service Inc. WELLS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Malcolm Finley, returning from Japan, is invited to Flower Acres, the Long Island home of Douglas Raynor, husband of Nancy, who is a former sweetheart of Finley's. Finley discovers that Raynor is tyrannizing over Nancy and is in love with her. At Flower Acres are Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley; Nancy; her devoted brother, Orville Kent; Douglas Raynor; Raynor's sister, Miss Mattie; and others. Finley realized he is re-creating a scene from his old love affair with Nancy. Finley talks to Nancy one morning in the gardens of the estate and is discovered by Miss Mattie. "I felt sure that you would be making love to my brother's wife," she says. Finley has calmed her suspicion when Dolly Fay, a little neighbor girl, chokes a finger at Nancy and Finley, and says, "Get your spooning done!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

She said nothing, but her thin lips came together in a straight line of faded pink, and her thin gray hair seemed almost sentient as the canny old head wagged in understanding.

"It was you I was spooning with," Finley said to her, with a glance of exaggerated reproach. "You called me your fairy prince—and then you run off and left me."

CHAPTER III
Who Fired the Shot?

Luncheon that day was not a festive affair.

Finley caught Nan alone for a moment, just before they were summoned to the dining-room.

"Would you rather I went home today?" he asked briefly.

"No, oh, no," she said, and a look of distress came to her face. "Don't do that! Stay—stay and protect me—something may happen."

"Sweethearting as usual?" came Raynor's caustic voice and the two started guiltily apart. This and other innocent in word or deed, the consciousness of their mutual feelings made them especially sensitive to the glances of Nan's husband.

"Oh, don't mind me," their tormentor went on.

He slipped his arm around her, chuckling as he watched her almost uncontrollable shivering away from him.

"There, there, my beauty," and he touched her cheek caressingly, "she's a restive little filly, Malcolm, she needs a bit of taming yet."

"You don't want me too tame, I'm sure," Nan said, brightly, but Finley saw the look of utter aversion in her eyes.

Nor was it difficult to understand. Though a handsome-featured man, Douglas Raynor had a pale, anemic look that contrasted sharply with Nan's fine, wholesome color. He seemed, too, a little short of breath, though whether this meant the man was ill or merely in a temper, Finley wasn't sure. But he did wonder if the doctor knew her husband, for, to his mind, Raynor was in need of medical advice.

At the luncheon table he was moody, now bursting into a perfect stream of chatter, then, as suddenly, lapsing into a sullen silence. He called frequently for water, draining his glass so often that Miss Turner looked at him thoughtfully.

"Stop looking at me, Eva," he cried out. "I suppose water is free—if some other beverages are not."

Finley was watching Nan, who at the moment was pouring coffee into demitasses. Her lips quivered a little, but she was calm and smiling. Still looking at her, Finley saw a little movement of her hand over the cup destined for her husband.

Surely, surely, she dropped something into it. And then, with a furtive, almost frightened air, she glanced quickly around the table as if to see if she had been observed.

"Saccharine, of course," Finley said to himself. "What's the matter with me? I'm seeing things. Probably his nibs is forbidden sugar. But why the scared glance? Why, probably he doesn't know it, and would scold if he did. What a brute he is! I wish I could kill him!"

Orry, across the table, was nervously twisting the corners of his napkin into spirals. As a result of shell-shock in the war, his nerves were still in bad shape. Yet Orville Kent was not so much affected by the ticking of a clock or any material annoyances as he was by the mental atmosphere about him. And when Douglas Raynor broke into real tantrums, Kent not infrequently rose and left the table.

At this juncture, however, they all left the table.

Raynor went off at once for the confab with Miss Turner that followed every meal, and that settled the menu for the next one. Thus, three times a day Nan was sure of a half-hour's respite, and those were the only times she was sure of.

"Come, sit in the swing a moment or two, Malcolm," Nan said, her eyes emphasizing the invitation.

"Me, too?" asked Goddard, very much on the watch against indiscretions.

"Yes, indeed; I'll sit between you," and Nan appropriated the middle cushion of the wide swing on the west terrace.

"I can't bear that detestable person," she snarled abruptly, and decidedly.

"Why do you have her here, then?" Goddard inquired.

"Because Douglas thinks he'll—or would be, if he didn't have his diet carefully watched. But I think he's less well since she came than before."

"He doesn't seem very well," Finley agreed. "What the reason he scolds you so much, Nan?"

"I dare say. Though he's always been pettish if I cross him in any way."

"You oughtn't to put up with it!" Finley burst out.

"It's none of your business, Mal," Goddard interrupted. "You've no right to speak like that."

"Yes, you have," Nan said, gravely. "Whatever he says or does, he's my husband, and therefore entitled to my respect and the respect of my guests."

"Hullo!" cried Dolly Fay, suddenly appearing before them. "Here you are, and oh, Nan, I say, what do you think? That Fairy Prince of mine isn't a Fairy Prince at all! He's a chivalrous gentleman! A base deceiver. What do you think he did? He called me a brat!"

"Surely she dropped something into it."

Oh, how I hate you, Mr. Finley!

"I did—I own up—but it was in a moment of anger. I apologize."

"And take it back?"

"Bak!" and Dolly made a saucer face at him. "Then I won't play tennis with you—and I do want a game."

"Take me on," and Goddard rose to oblige her.

"Glad to be told you're a crack player."

"That was good of old Ezra," Finley said. "I may not get a chance with you alone again. Nan, can I help you in any way?"

"No, dear, of course you can't." Then she flushed enchantingly at the unintentional word, and said very seriously, "We can't hide it from ourselves—I do care for you, Malcolm—I think I always have cared, but I am a wife—and," she drew herself up proudly, "I am a Caesar's wife. Never shall I fail in the most minute particular of any duty I owe my husband. I do want you to go away—and I never want to see you again—as long as Douglas lives."

For weak Run-down/ Condition!

THE DOOR of opportunity flings wide its portals only to the man who is up and doing—who is filled with pep and punch—with rich, red blood tingling through his system. Mountain size obstacles dwindle to ant hills and ambitions become accomplishments to these sort of men.

Where is the employer who seeks the man who is physically run-down? The man without stamina to withstand the knocks and gaffs of the hurrying, scurrying world of business?

S.S.S. is the long established and time honored creator of red-blooded cells. You cannot expect to get very far up the ladder unless you are equipped with a body that is strong and vigorous. S.S.S. will start you on your way. Don't allow the "Door of Opportunity" to be closed to you because you have not the stamina to withstand the gaffs—bumps, and nerve power is lacking. Build up your system!

S.S.S. made of carefully selected and scientifically prepared and proportioned herbs and barks makes you fit! Get back that old time punch! When opportunity knocks be ready to answer the call!

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

P. H. S. AND EAST HI TEAM OF COLUMBUS CLASH HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The bridge chapel at Rotherham, England—almost 450 years old—has been in turn an almshouse, a gaol and a cigar store.

After one taste from the bitter cup lay streets tomorrow afternoon at of defeat the P. H. S. athletes will 2:00 o'clock. The locals have had a line up against the strong East Hi team of Columbus Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The game will be played at Sixteenth and Findlay Hamilton, and after a hard week of practice they intend to show the Columbus squad how real football is played.

The true that the East Hi team has four defeats behind it, but the fact remains that it is still a good team and cannot be held too lightly. Four defeats only means that P. H. S. will have to fight all the harder to make it a fifth, for the up-state organization will undoubtedly come on the field with one mighty effort to win back lost ground.

Coach McComb has been working hard with his men and he announced today that they would be ready for the whistle tomorrow and would show a real brand of football.

On account of a number of injuries in the Hamilton game, some of the best players will be held out of the game tomorrow unless they are badly needed. Anglin, star center, will not be allowed to start the game, and Parlier will probably take his place. Jimmie Sprague, halfback, will be held out for Shields, who played one of the best games he has ever played in the Hamilton contest a week ago Saturday. The probable line-up for the game tomorrow follows:

P. H. S.	East Hi
Monk (C.)	L. E. Albright
Heffner	L. T. Lisle
Manson	L. G. Johnson
Barber	C. Walkon
Schuess	R. G. Schuler
Williams	R. T. Billleson
Harley	R. E. Hayes
Duduit	Q. B. Hintt
Shields	L. H. Simpson
Cose	R. H. Hedges
Doll	F. B. Walker (C.)

Hatt, quarter back on the East team, has been starring throughout the season and will bear watching. He has had a number of seasons of experience in the quarter position and knows how to handle his team. A large crowd is expected to see the game. Plenty of thrills will be shown by both teams, this is considered one of the hardest games P. H. S. will have this season.

PRESIDENT'S DELAY IN LOWERING TARIFF ON SUGAR COSTING PUBLIC HEAVILY

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 17. (By the Associated Press)—Declaring President Coolidge apparently had decided to delay action on the sugar tariff petition until after the election, Chairman Shaver of the Democratic national committee said in a statement today that the president's "caution" was costing the public heavily during every day of delay.

"Chairman Marvin, of the U. S. Tariff Commission, speaking presuably as the proxy of President Coolidge," said the Democratic chairman, "gives the information that the president intends to postpone for another indefinite period any official action on the commission's recommendation that the present producers' tariff on sugar be reduced by half a cent a pound. Apparently the president intends to defer until after election the decision which many persons believe will favor the best sugar trust when eventually it is announced."

"This further delay in cutting the cost of living by decreasing in part an unnecessary and unjustifiable tax on a common staple of the people's food will be and news to millions of American housewives. Now within a few days of the election he calls for more information."

"This is the sort of 'caution' that costs the consumers of sugar more in a month than it takes to pay the president's salary and maintain the White House for an entire year."

"Whoever may benefit from this 'caution' it is certain that the users of sugar, including millions of women, are losing by it."

Case Continued

Henry Howerton, 32, spent the night in the city jail. When he came before Judge Sprague in Municipal court he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication. His case was continued.

Smith Fined; Sent To Jail

Alfred Smith, claiming Ironton as his home, was fined $25 and costs and given a ten day's jail sentence by Mayor Bierley, of New Boston, yesterday on a petit larceny charge. Smith was arrested by Marshall O'Leary Cassidy while he was en route to Ironton in an automobile. The young man was arrested on complaint of a young woman living at 3051 Rhodes avenue, who reported that Smith had departed from her home with a gold neck chain and ring, after making a 20-minute call. The chain and ring were found on Smith, according to the officer. Smith is now in the county jail.

HARRY M. DUNHAM FOR SHERIFF
Second Term.

With only two days left in which all persons of voting age can register and with the knowledge that over half of the voting population of the city has not registered, I wish to make known and urge all who expect to cast their ballots on Nov. 4th that they must register today or tomorrow at their regular precinct voting places throughout the city between the hours of 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. to 9 p. m.

No doubt a great number of voters are under the impression they can vote because of the fact that they had registered before the last primary held on August 12th. This year being presidential year, requires every voter to register regardless of any previous registration. However, this applies only to voters of the City of Portsmouth and its incorporations and does not apply to voters outside of the city. Those who are properly registered and expect to be absent from the county on Nov. 4th can now cast their ballot at the Board of Elections in the Kricker Bldg.

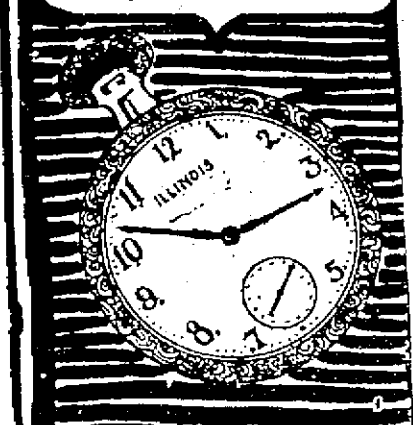

Prepare yourself today and tomorrow to exercise the privilege and duty of your citizenship on Nov. 4th. Register today and avoid the rush Saturday.

World's Biggest Money Printing Plant To Go On 'Business Principles'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Reorganization in the bureau of engraving and printing to provide "business principles" to the biggest plant of its kind in the world, was announced today by Secretary Mellon.

Two additional assistant directors, making three in all, have been appointed to aid Director Kirby, and the work of the bureau has been divided into three groups, each to be under the supervision of an assistant director. The two new assistant directors are John J. Deviny and Clark R. Long, both of whom are thoroughly acquainted with the bureau problems. The third is Paul E. Twyman, who was appointed last February.

WAS AS YELLOW AS A PUMPKIN

Sufferer From Yellow Jaundice and Stomach Trouble Related How Ka-di-ok Helped Him.

MR. JOHN ROWLAND

"I suffered from stomach trouble and yellow jaundice," said Mr. John Rowland, horse trainer, living at 2004 E. Main St., Columbus, Ohio, in an interview with a representative from the Ka-di-ok Laboratories. "I was as yellow as a pumpkin and suffered all kinds of aches. I was weak and just generally run-down."

"After six bottles of Ka-di-ok I feel entirely different. It has done wonders for me and I am feeling fine. I recommended Ka-di-ok to a friend in Cleveland who says it has helped him in a similar way. I am very happy to give my testimonial if it will benefit others."

Ka-di-ok, the herbal health-aid, is relieving thousands from troubles traceable to disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys and nervous exhaustion. Those who fail to properly enjoy foods, and are tired after sudden exertion, have sleepless nights, have lost weight, whose strength and vitality are low or whose condition is generally run-down, should seek relief in Ka-di-ok at once.

Ka-di-ok may be obtained at all drug stores in Portsmouth. —Adv.

Ernest Ansterberg Auto Racer, Killed On Southern Course

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 17.—Ansterberg, world famous auto racer was killed here today on the new Charlotte Speedway when he lost control of his car while trying the new track, struck the upper rail and went over it. He died on the way to a hospital.

Ansterberg arrived here this week from Los Angeles with a number of other racers for the inaugural races at the speedway October 25. He held the world's record for the fastest mile and a quarter broad track, having made this record at Altona last summer. Ansterberg was married and his wife is said to be in Los Angeles.

URGES BUSINESS METHODS IN CHURCH EXPANSION
CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—"In capturing the city the church must use the same scientific methods of survey and approach as a great industrial enterprise in capturing a market," Dean W. S. Atherton of the school of religious education, Boston University, told the international convention of the Disciples of Christ here today. In Lynn, Mass., Dr. Atherton said, the discipline thrives when the shoe factory is working at full speed.

Overeating is said to be much more common in the north of England than in the south.

Harry L. Davis Tells of Eleventh Hour Attack He Expects From Demmies

MARIETTA, O., Oct. 17.—(By the A. P.)—Washington, Noble and Guernsey counties were warned today by Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor to be on guard "for eleventh hour attacks of an unwarranted nature by those who oppose him."

The former governor in the auditorium here and in an open air meeting at Caldwell and Cambridge told hearers of the nature of the attacks he made on him when he ran for governor before and how they were launched at the last minute in an effort to defeat him.

"The present administration has been in office nearly two years," he said here tonight, "giving them plenty of time in which to unearth and expose anything wrong connected with my administration as governor but they have been unable to do so."

"This campaign is several weeks old and they have had ample time for statements but none has come. I want you to know what the conditions have been and warn you against eleventh hour attacks. Now is the time for them to come into the open. They have had lots of time."

"The governor has charged," said Mr. Davis, "that big money is behind me and that I am spending a lot of money in this campaign. I only wish I could prove it."

"Every dollar that I have ever received for a campaign fund has been honestly reported and every dollar that I receive for this campaign will be honestly reported. The governor is becoming so sure of himself that he is beginning to brag about the fact that contributions to his fund are slow and small. You can't blame the people. They do not want to give a fund that will help those they do not want in office."

Wants "Wrong Doing" Told
Telling why he was not a candidate to succeed himself two years ago Davis said the explanation he gave in the summer of 1922 is the only explanation—that he wanted to remain in Columbus and conclude the work under the reorganization act and be able to point to a finished program to the end of the term instead of neglecting this work for a campaign and leave a partly unfinished program.

"There said there were other reasons and intimated there was something I feared. That I was afraid to again face the people of Ohio."

"They have been in office nearly two years and I am before the public, a candidate again, and am demanding that they produce one thing wrong which they found in connection with my administration as governor. They have failed to produce anything, but in their continued mysterious way still intimated there was something wrong and are asking for two years more in office, probably feeling that in two years more they can find something."

Coolidge Talks To Foreign Born Body

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—American is anxious to aid in the restoration of the old world, President Coolidge told a delegation of foreign born citizens at the White House today, but added that "we can be in a position to help only by unifying the American nation, building it up, making it strong, keeping it independent, using its inclination to help and its disinclination to injure."

"Those who cast in their lot with this country," Mr. Coolidge declared, "can be true to the land of their origin only by being true to America."

The President reiterated that "the doors of this country were open" but said that restrictive immigration legislation had become necessary to protect those already here as well as those who would come. It is not a reflection on any race or creed, he asserted.

The delegation represented American citizens from 12 nations and comprised a portion of the foreign language bureau of the eastern division of the Republican National Committee.

A testimonial of support of President Coolidge was presented on behalf of the delegation by William Augustine Sculley, director of the bureau.

AUTO JUMPS CURB, ONE WOMAN IS HURLED THRU WINDOW, ANOTHER HURT

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17.—While looking into the display window of a drug store here tonight, Mrs. Ella Albertson, 25, her daughter in law, was probably fatally injured, when they were hurled through the window by an automobile which got out of control of its driver and jumped the curb.

A blood transfusion might be necessary to save Mrs. Pickford's life, physicians at a hospital where she was taken, declared.

According to the police, the car was driven by a man looked as Abraham Kohn, who in attempting to pass another automobile, his taxi collided with it and jumped the curb.

Another car going in the opposite direction. The rear wheel of his car and the front wheel of the one he was passing were entangled, police say, causing him to lose control. The man was charged with manslaughter.

Attempts to pass other cars also resulted in the death tonight of Edward D. Buchanan, taxi driver. He was killed when in attempting to go around another automobile, his taxi collided head on with an interurban car.

Coyle Fined
Raymond Coyle, arrested at Lakeside, east of New Boston, by Constable Martin Slaughter and Marshal Ollie Cassidy was fined $100 and costs on a charge of possessing moonshine by Mayor Blerley yesterday.

JONES DRAWS FINE

Clair Jones was fined $21.00 by Mayor Blerley at New Boston when he found the young man guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Is Fined
After pleading guilty in Municipal court Thursday to a charge of being intoxicated, John Komkoski, 46, was fined $5 and costs.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs—and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with trophic action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Sundry refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

SECRET OF HAPPINESS

The greatest menace on earth to happiness is the ill health with which so many women are afflicted. The young woman is subject to pain and irregularities, the mother to the tortures of displacements with consequent pains, aches and nervousness—the middle aged woman to the uncomfortable conditions caused by this critical age. The one remedy to control these conditions and restore the system to a normal healthy condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for fifty years has been restoring sick and ailing women to health and happiness. —Adv.

Death Halls Anniversary Celebration When Switchman Is Killed at Russell

IRONTON, O., Oct. 17.—John Nester, 24, of 695 North Sixth street, was almost instantly killed in the new classifying yards of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad at Russell on Thursday night—the second of a series of deaths which have struck the yard this month.

Mr. Nester was a switchman, working the second "trick," and would have gone off duty at 11 o'clock. He was coupling cars in the new yards when injured, being caught between two drawheads and flung to death. When workmen reached his side, he was already dead, he probably dying a second or so after the two cars had come together and crushed his organs.

John Nester had lived in Ironton for the past seventeen years and has been employed by the C. & O. since November 8th, 1922. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Nester, of West Ironton.

Thursday was Mr. and Mrs. Nester's second wedding anniversary, but fate stepped in and stopped a celebration of the event, which had been planned by the wife.

DAVIS CARRIES FIGHT TO FOREIGN HOMES IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—John W. Davis brought his campaign back to Chicago last night for a series of whirlwind meetings which leaders of his party hope will have the effect of consolidating the Democratic ranks in Cook county.

The Democratic presidential candidate opened a two days stay with an address at the Auditorium Theatre, where, facing an audience of several thousand, he laid renewed stress upon what he characterizes as the necessity for "good government from the ground up."

Davis will carry his fight tomorrow night into the foreign residential sections of the windy city.

"It is a solemn errand on which I have been sent," he declared.

The Democratic candidate said the quadrennial decisions the people were called upon to make were always fraught with serious responsibility and consequences. He reviewed the political situations which Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson faced during the Civil and World Wars and asked who would have thought when these two presidents were elected that decisions of world wide and national importance would be made by them.

At this point a man yelled from the rear of the audience:

"Mr. Davis, what is your stand on the Ku Klux Klan?"

"I will answer the gentleman's question," Mr. Davis said, amid cries of "sit down, sit down."

"If the gentleman had been a consistent reader of the daily press, he could not have overlooked the fact that in the first speech I made in the campaign I answered that question."

Locusts have been gathered by the ton in Rocholt, Germany, and oil extracted from their bodies.

Flu Left Mrs. Menke in Terrible Condition

Her Ailments Were Numerous And She Didn't Know What To Do — But Tanlac Brought Complete Relief.

"After the way Tanlac has improved my health I can praise it as a wonderful medicine," is the candid statement of Mrs. Clara Menke, 2235 Roosevelt avenue, Indianapolis, Ind. "Following a spell of 'flu' two years ago my ailments were so numerous and distressing that I didn't know what to do. Indigestion, shortness of breath, blinding dizzy spells, backache; all these troubles preyed on my energy and strength until I got so weak and nervous I would often have to sit down to keep from fainting. Tanlac put a stop to my troubles and made a perfectly well woman of me. I have gained ten pounds, eat and sleep like a child, and have health and strength that make life a pleasure."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills recommended by the manufacturers of TANLAC.

Fire Damages Home of Dry Officer in Ironton; Coal Oil Found, Believed Revenge is Motive

IRONTON, O., Oct. 17.—An attempt to burn the home of Charles Hutchinson, ex-sheriff, at 511 Vernon street, was made early last evening, and but for the timely arrival of Carl Lauter, the responsible person would probably have been carried out. As it was, furniture, walls and rugs were badly damaged before the local fire department could extinguish the blaze. Mr. Hutchinson is now a state prohibition officer, working out of Portsmouth, and is seldom home. The house is occupied by his wife, daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lauter but Mrs. Hutchinson is at present out in the country. Earlier in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lauter and child, and Mrs. Lowell Staker, went automobile riding after locking all doors at their home. For some reason they returned earlier than they had anticipated and Mr. Lauter noticed flames in an upper bedroom and in the dining room on the first floor. He called the fire department and then started fighting the blaze, holding the flames in control until firemen arrived two minutes later. An investigation disclosed, that the fire had been started intentionally and that the person responsible had carefully laid his plans. Coal oil had been scattered over furniture in the dining room while rumpled newspapers were thrown beneath a bed in Mr. Lauter's room. A match was then applied in the first floor room but Mr. Lauter's arrival stayed execution of the complete plans as only the mattress of the bed was alight. A drawer containing receipts and other papers had been gone through and a match applied. Then the drawer was closed and the shutting off of air put out the flames and caused the papers to smoulder.

In the dining room a vinegar jar containing a small amount of coal oil was found. It probably being laid to one side by the culprit when he noticed the Lauter family drive up in front of the house. How he entered or left was a mystery, as all the doors were locked and none of the windows, apparently had been tampered with.

Mr. Hutchinson who has been busy in and about Portsmouth for the past two days, received word of the fire at the local police station last night and left at once for his Ironton home.

FROM EVERY SIDE COMES
GOOD NEWS OF PEPGEN

Each day brings new evidence of the value of Pepgen, the new herb medicine, being so highly recommended in the treatment of stomach, liver and kidney ailments.

"I am surely pleased with Pepgen," said Mrs. Beatrice Ashely, of 429 Third street. "I will never forget the day I went to Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy and got my first bottle.

"For a long time I had been suffering with stomach trouble, and I was extremely nervous.

"Everything I ate would disagree with me. I would have severe attacks of gas and bloating after meals. This gas caused pains around my heart and in my side.

"But Pepgen has changed all this.

Before I had finished the first bottle I began to feel much better.

"I would eat my meals with a real enjoyment, and after I had finished I did not have any attacks of gas or pains in my side.

"My nerves grew stronger and as I continued the Pepgen treatment I felt better and stronger in every way.

"Pepgen is surely a wonderful tonic and I am glad to tell my friends in Portsmouth of its value."

The genuine Pepgen is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Portsmouth only at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, Kalsbe's Pharmacy, New Boston. There is a Pepgen store in every near-by town.

Navy Meets Princeton Tomorrow;
Notre Dame To Tackle Army

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Rattle, rattle, the boys are rolling today into the territory of gridiron enemies. Portsmouth will arrive at Yale strengthened by a fierce foreboding by the Hanover student body. Cornell is enroute to New Brunswick for its game with Rutgers, in grim pursuit of last prestige.

Notre Dame, in charge of Knute Rockne, was due to arrive here from South Bend on its annual pilgrimage to the east. Plans for the visitors include a motor trip to Rye, N. Y., where the squad will practice and spend the night at the West Chester-Baltimore club.

The Army eleven, which will renew its efforts to defeat Rockne's Blue Comet at the Polo Grounds on Saturday, will arrive here tonight and be quartered at the Astor.

Blackboard drill will constitute the cadet workout for the day. The Cadet corps of 1400 will come down Saturday in time to witness the game. Columbia, with its best opportunity to win from Penn, since the last victory in 1908, will leave for Philadelphia to prepare for the most severe test Percy Haughton's system has yet received.

Navy will be off to meet Princeton in one of the most colorful contests of the week end, after a week during which no scrimmages were held.

Members Of Alleged Airplane Rum Ring
Taken By Dry Agents

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Ten members of a whiskey ring said to import its wares by airplane from Cuba to Florida and to supply much of the "better traffic" in the middle west have been arrested here, federal agents announced today.

The arrests followed almost a year of investigation, and revealed the nature of the "aerial ring," it was said. Although the headquarters are in Chicago, the organization is reputed to have agents in most of the larger cities, and the arrest of these is expected.

R. David Thakasson, leader of the ring, is reported to have made at least a million dollars on the Cuba-Florida

Shoots Wife Three Times, Kills Himself

AKRON, O., Oct. 17.—After shooting his wife three times with an automatic pistol today, Michael Kulsar, 44, wealthy shoe repairman, hanged himself in their home and turned the weapon on himself, inflicting wounds from which he died shortly after being removed to a hospital in a police emergency. Mrs. Kulsar, 43, was taken to the same hospital in a critical condition.

The shooting was the culmination of a quarrel which began last night, according to the story told to police by Frank Kulsar, 13 and 10, sons, who witnessed the tragedy.

Newspaper Circulation
Auditors See Bright
Future For Business

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Despite "unfavorable influences and inevitable fluctuations," business conditions are fundamentally good and the outlook promising, according to numerous statements of delegates to the 11th annual convention of the audit bureau of circulation, here today.

Among the sources of optimism to the delegates were: "A 150,000,000 bushel wheat crop in Kansas"; "Improvement of agriculture reflected in newspaper advertising linage in some communities"; "The largest attendance in recent years of fall buyers at the St. Louis market"; "That the farmer with $1.50 wheat and $1.00 corn, will have more money to spend during the coming year than any time during the past three years"; "railroad car loadings barely below the record week for all time"; "foreign economic improvement"; and "lively movement in the cattle market."

GAS IN STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ailments. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

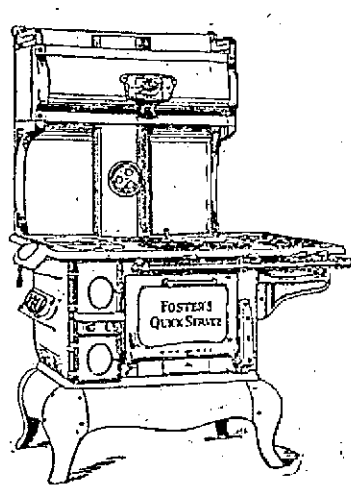

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary laxative pills which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form) a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas wind and acid right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no source of pain. Five grains of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Pittsburgh Hurler Denies Statements

Accredited To Him In Scandal; Landis Busy

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Published accounts of statements attributed to Emil Yde, Pittsburgh Nationals pitcher, that "something more sensational may be sprung shortly" in connection with the baseball scandal of the New York Giants led baseball commissioner Landis to request Yde to appear before him with any information he may have.

is quoted as giving, that Sand was not the only Philadelphia player to have been approached, or that any one else was involved.

"There are several probabilities in the case and I am working on them," said the commissioner, who returned to his office today after winding up world's series details. "I welcome any such information as is attributed to Yde or any facts that any one else can bring out, to help clear this up."

"The baseball public can feel sure that I am not concealing anything that I have discovered in relation to this attempt to throw a game. I am not trying to cover up anything and I am not trying to shield anyone. But I still lack evidence that the scheme involved others than O'Connell and "Cozy" Dolan.

"I have encountered scores of fans who still feel that there is more than the story of the attempt of O'Connell at Dolan's instigation, to bribe Heinie Sand. If there is, I have as yet been unable to trace it, but I am still trying."

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—Emil Yde, Pittsburgh Nationals pitcher, who was summoned to appear before commissioner Landis, is at his home at Freeport, Ill. The statements attributed to Yde were contained in an interview given by an unknown fan to a Rockford, Ill., newspaper. In the interview, the fan repeated what was purported to have been a conversation he had with Yde during one of the world series games between the New York Nationals and the Washington Americans. The account was republished in a Pittsburgh newspaper.

Shortly after the purported interview appeared Mr. Dreyfus said a telegram was received from Yde in which he denied that he had made any statement with reference to the baseball scandal.

ROCKFORD, ILL., Oct. 16.—Emil Yde, member of the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh Nationals today at his home in Freeport, denied making statements credited to him in connection with recent charges of bribery in big league baseball circles. He issued the following statement:

"My attention has been directed to certain statements I am quoted as having made recently in regard to my salary and contract with the Pittsburgh baseball club of the National league and the condition of several players of our team before a game with the New York Giants. And I wish to take this opportunity to make an absolute and unqualified denial of such rumors.

"I have made no statements written, oral or otherwise regarding the terms of my contract with the Pittsburgh baseball club except that the contract calls for my services for one year.

"I have made no statement written, oral or otherwise regarding the condition of any player on our team before a game with the New York Giants or with any other ball team.

"Any such rumors in circulation are entirely without authorization."

The average age of a clergyman in the Church of England, is said to be 60.

Who Owns Track?

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—A legal battle over ownership of the Jefferson race track here was threatened today.

Robert S. Eddy, Jr., Robert Mastri and Charles Leigh announced they had purchased the track from James F. O'Hara and G. D. Bryan, but from Chicago came word that the syndicate represented by Joe A. Murphy, who was an official at Hawthorne this year, will contest the sale.

The Chicago syndicate spokesman was quoted as saying his associates had purchased the stock of the company but the New Orleans men said they already had possession of the stock.

During a severe thunder storm in the Baltic Sea, sea gulls were observed flying about with small blue electric flames on their backs, and at the tips of their tails and wings.

Motor Caravan Is Bound for Urbana

ANN ARBOR, Michigan, Oct. 17.—A curious caravan roared, snorted, jerked and honked its way out of Ann Arbor today. A hardy group of Michigan students had begun the motorized trek to Urbana, Illinois, for Saturday's Illinois-Wolverine football game.

Every conceivable vintage of silvers was there—radiators pointed westward and hoping, but fearful north behind the wheels. There were the usual squeaks, and many unusual ones; there were the wobbly front wheels, the flapping mud guards, the topless tonneau, the tonneauless chassis.

Many cars had cracked windshields others had no windshields at all. Headlights were broken and rusty; tires flopped bumpily along, patched and worn.

It was the motor age method of travel when the urge is compelling and the purse unwilling. The second hand car (more often a third or fourth handed one) was replacing the "slide door pullman" and "the rods" as a means of transportation between two given points.

A group of students, each contributing his share would purchase a car—no matter how decrepit, just so it would run—and start off. Fate handles the future.

In the names, slogans and catch lines chosen for the placards nearly every car carried, alliteration was put to a severe strain.

"Galloping gondola" and "leaping leona" were the designations under which two heavily loaded candidates for the junk pile coughed their way out of town, Urbana bound.

The familiar one—"There is beauty in every jar" and "in you love to touch"—were in evidence, together with scores of other slogans that apparently had tested to the utmost the ingenuity of the trekkers. "Mah Junk" was one title. "Four Tired Wheels" another. "Everything Brakes" was the pest-mastic placard on one machine that followed a staggering relic of 1918 whose radiator carried the warning "Do not open until Christmas."

To Play Clarksburg

The MacDonell Buick Masters will practice Friday evening at 6:30 on the Sixteenth street lot, preparatory to their game at Clarksburg Sunday afternoon. All members of the club are urged to turn out for practice.

Holding Suspect In Hughes Robbery

Sheriff Harry M. Dunham, last night, announced the arrest of a suspect in the robbery of the Hughes Store, Gallia street, last Sunday. The sheriff withheld the name of the suspect, saying that the arrest had been made to keep the man from leaving town, and that the prisoner had made no statement, as yet. The man is being held under a blanket suspicion and investigation charge.

Sheriff Dunham, commenting on the case, said that he and Deputies Carter and Reno had been working on the case since last Friday afternoon, and that they had struck "a warm trail."

"I can make no direct accusations," the county official said last night, "but we are hoping for more positive developments in the near future. The robbery presents many and perplex angles.

There are few clues, and we are trying to run them all down. With good luck, and if the present clues bear out indications, we may have some definite information to give out in the near future."

The robbers obtained about $1000 in cash and about $700 in checks at the Hughes store.

ANOTHER SWINDLE

Mr. Upstart—I never want to enter that art dealer's store again!

director of the LaFollette campaign testified that the total of $400,535 received by his organization had come from approximately 72,000 contributors in sums ranging from $1 upward with one contribution of $23,000, another of $5,000 and three of $1,000 each.
Manufacturers, investment and other bankers were the principal contributors in large sums to the Republican fund, Mr. Hodges said. William Wrigley Jr., of Chicago, was listed as the only person contributing $25,000. James A. Patten, Evanston, Ill., a grain dealer, gave $20,000. Fifteen thousand dollar contributors included Payne Whitney, Manhasset, N. Y.; Aldrich A. Johnson, a manufacturer of Camden, N. J., and Arthur Curtis James, New York, Hodges testified.

Other large contributors named by the Republican National treasurer were J. B. Duke, Somerville, N. J., $12,500; Owen F. Tolbert, Avon, $12,500; and Mary Owen F. Tolbert, $12,500. Those giving $10,000 were listed as follows:
Julius P. Krichman, Mortimer J. Schiff, J. B. Armitage, and Charles Hanger, all of New York; J. Horace Hardin, Brunson, N. J.; B. A. Beckhart, Chicago; Arthur W. Cullen, grain merchant of Chicago; Albert V. Harris, president of a Chicago bank; Charles G. Dawes, Evanston, Ill., the Republican vice-presidential candidate; Harry F. Knight, St. Louis, and A. E. Carlton, Colorado Springs, Col.

Hodges testified that the Union League Club of Philadelphia, had sent in $15,000, representing probable contributions by its members, and that a like sum had come from Horace C. Jones, treasurer of the National Campaign Committee, Philadelphia, representing probable sums collected for a previous campaign.

"Have you received any contributions from J. P. Morgan & Company or any members of that firm?" asked Senator Borah, after Mr. Hodges had finished with the list.

"Yes, yes," was the answer. "I don't know the names of all the members of the firm, but I do know that we have had contributions from Dwight Morrow and Thomas Cochran, each giving $5,000."

Subscriptions Regular
The witness volunteered that there appeared on his books a sum of $75,000 sent in by Joseph R. Grundy of Bristol, Pa., and representing collections made by him.

Questioning by members of the committee developed that Grundy was to have raised $300,000 in Pennsylvania and that under the original budget of the National committee a total of $300,000 was to be sought in that state and $40,000 in Illinois.

Chairman Borah indicated that Grundy would be called for examination at a later date, probably in Washington to which place the investigation is to be transferred within a few days.

Hodges explained to the committee that the next expenditures by the Republican National organization in the presidential campaign had aggregated $1,342,050, the other $371,935 having been collected for the congressional, senatorial and state campaigns, and expended for those purposes through the regular committees.

The national organization started out on an estimated budget need of $3,000,000 for the campaign, Mr. Hodges said. He added that collections up to October 10 had run about $500,000 short of those of the 1920 campaign.

Third Party Estimates
Congressman Nelson in his statement to the committee said the LaFollette-Wheeler organization had made a budget estimate ranging from $600,000 to $1,500,000, but that this had been disregarded. He thought the campaign could be wound up with an additional expenditure of $50,000, making the total approximately $250,000 including sums received through the Congressional Progressive Political Action.

Mr. Nelson said he had no knowledge as to what sums were being spent by labor organizations on behalf of the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign, but he did know that the American Federation of Labor was conducting an independent campaign, collecting and expending funds. He disclaimed knowledge of either the source or the amount.

Both Mr. Hodges and Congressman Nelson submitted detailed statements of expenditures.

Senators Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, questioned Hodges about the $437,000 item for publicity and the committee decided to call tomorrow George Barr Baker, whom Mr. Hodges said is director of publicity.

William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, also will be a witness tomorrow. The inquirers desire to question him on matters of policy adopted by the National committee and other matters.

David

diction that proved on election day to be wrong. In some states, as for instance, Nebraska, the correspondent compiled twenty-two different sources of information.
Nobody can of course hope to predict with accuracy the outcome of the situation in every state. The most that can be done is to appraise the general sentiment and give the underlying psychology of it.

Political managers dislike to see stories published which give anything but a rosy picture of their situations. Perhaps it disheartens their workers. One may sympathize with a campaign manager but his is a poor case which rests solely on what is published in the last few weeks of a campaign. It is the writer's experience that candidates are raised in spite of the extravagant praise given them in the last weeks of a campaign, and even President Coolidge may survive the meaningless pan that has been pushed as a slogan—"Keep Cool with Coolidge." Much more effective have been the bill board advertisements in so many states with the two words "Why Change?" in large letters addressed to the voter as an appeal to retain Coolidge.

Traveling the same ground year after year, a writer builds up his acquaintance everywhere, with men of judgment rather than partisans, representative men who mingle with the people not a few days or a few weeks but all the year around. From them and the constant contact with a Washington correspondent keeps through Congress with local situations an appraisal can be made of what is going on.

As to polls and straw votes, they are of distinct value. The Literary Digest poll is one of the best ever taken. With some few exceptions it corresponds with the trend of sentiment in many states. The inaccuracies are not due to the Digest staff but to the disinclination of many people to mail back their ballots. The writer talked with scores of persons who threw their ballots away rather than take the time to fill them out. For this reason one can not always tell the exact percentage of the probable vote. But all the various polls put together mean something. They are after all straws which show the way the wind is blowing.

Planes Collide 1,300 Feet Aloft; Two Instantly Killed; Third Escapes in a Parachute

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 17.—Two men were instantly killed and a third had a remarkable escape from death this afternoon in a collision of two naval biplane, 1,300 feet above Coronado. The dead are:

Ensign Mervin J. Flanders, 24, attached to the transport Vega.

Robert H. Kerr, aviation chief mechanic, attached to the transport Vega.

Gunner William Cole escaped with his life when he walked out on the wing of his biplane and plunged head first to the ground, his parachute opening after he had fallen 500 feet. He is suffering from shock, but is otherwise uninjured according to naval physicians.

The collision, one of the most tragic in the entire history of local aviation, occurred when Kerr dived with his biplane into a cloud hole. Cole, traveling faster than 115 miles an hour directly below, did not see Kerr's plane until the crash.

Diving through the cloud hole Kerr had no chance to see Cole's plane and the two ships came together with such terrific impact that the crushing air planes could be heard for more than a mile.

The bodies of Kerr and Flanders were picked up from the wreckage of their planes near the Walter Keck property in Coronado. The plane of Gunner Cole after whirling crazily for a brief time, piled up on the Coronado golf links and caught fire.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—More than $60,000 was scattered along three miles of railroad track between Ambridge and Sewickley, suburbs last night when a Pennsylvania express train ran over a mail pouch containing the money. It became known tonight. According to Pennsylvania and postal officials $52,554 has been recovered, with $7,505 still missing.

The money, mostly in 10, 20, and 50 dollar bills, had been delivered to the Ambridge postoffice by the

Athletic, Clerically Garbed Pastor Cures Cripples By Faith and Magnetism

(BY FRANK GETTY)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MT. VERNON, N. Y., October 17.—(By the United Press)—The magnetism of a tall, athletic, clerically garbed man from Denver, drew throngs to the Church of the Ascension here and many ill, crippled and afflicted men, women and little children went away today with shining faces, "hoping" they had been cured by faith and the laying on of hands.

The Rev. Robert B. H. Bell, whose meetings in down town New York recently stopped traffic and caused a crush that called out police reserves, is repeating with the same similarity of success his "Faith Cure" here.

To packed meetings, the vigorous, self-confident pastor proclaims his power to heal through prayer and the faith of the patients.

In swift speech, standing before the chancel, Dr. Bell emphasizes the power of Christ in curing all ills, while out in front, crowding the pews and aisles, cripples, mutes and mothers with little children suffering from incurable afflictions hang on his every word.

"It is possible for me to get in touch with my Master, communicate with Him and have Him talk to me as if I understood His language and He mine," the pastor declared.

The audience stirred restlessly and now and then a child who doesn't understand, cries with pain or in awe of the tense silence broken only by the minister's rapid words.

"I don't believe that any man has a right to be sick. I believe man can be healthy day after day till God is ready to call him," Dr. Bell goes on. Then he calls for the children to be brought to him. In some cases he lays his hands on the sufferer in others he anoints with oil. He gives advice to mothers, in a forceful way that brings smiles of confidence to their faces.

A crippled child, its legs twisted, is carried to him.

"Here! these little legs and give them strength and may she grow stronger and stronger," he prays. He addresses the congregation:

"Pray, all of you, while I lay hands on this little one."

The congregation prays as Dr. Bell goes through a regular formula.

"Now," addressing the mother who waits anxiously, "make her run to you, see, she is cured."

The child could not take a step, but when Dr. Bell holds her up and smiles into her face, she smiles back and hops that she feels better.

Others follow. To each, the minister's personality seems to impart new vigor.

"You are cured, aren't you? Yes, you are cured," he repeats, and the patient responds to his magnetism.

At the church door, as the congregation files out, Dr. Bell stands shaking hands. Many leave the church with happy, albeit slightly, puzzled expressions. They say they "hope" they are better.

The Rev. Robert B. H. Bell claims 5,000 cures. He is going to Boston next week, after which he will return to his home in Denver.

Students' Autos Meet; Ohio Resident Killed

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 17.—One youth is dead, another probably will die and three others are suffering from injuries received late last night when their automobiles came together near here.

Edward McGrath of Marion, O., died in a hospital this morning and Sam Miller of Buffalo probably will die. Albert Hanslett of Chicago suffered a broken leg and body bruises.

The youths, students of the University of Michigan, were enroute from Ann Arbor to Urbana to attend the Illinois-Michigan football game tomorrow.

Neal Replies To Trailkill's Attack On Harry L. Davis

COLUMBUS, O., October 17.—(By the United Press)—Replying to the open letter of M. E. Trailkill, prominent attorney, attacking the Republican candidate of Harry L. Davis, for governor, Clarence J. Neal, Davis campaign manager today issued a statement saying that it was "a gratuitous slander" and that Trailkill's attempt to "pass himself off as a Republican, is preposterous."

"Trailkill turns to the scrap pile of Nuckrakers in a desperate effort to injure the Republican party and bolster up a lost Democratic cause," Neal denied the charge made by L. A. Boulay, state highway director, that campaign funds had been solicited of road contractors in behalf of Davis.

Neal also charged Donahay with misrepresenting the attendance at the State Fair by giving out thousands of passes. The department of agriculture replied that this was not true as fewer passes were given out this year than ever before.

Shenandoah Passes Up Frisco On the Way to Washington

SAN FRANCISCO, October 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The navy freighter Shenandoah, delayed because of storms and head winds encountered last night on her trip from San Diego to San Francisco, along the California coast, today put a message in the air to Mayor James Rolph, Jr., saying the aircraft would not visit San Francisco until her return trip.

The Shenandoah continued up the coast without entering San Francisco Bay.

Rapid Recovery Of Europe Is Seen By Banker

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan, who has been abroad with the financier, attending to details of the German loan returned to Wall street today reticent on reports of a loan of $150,000,000 to France to be floated here next week. The new bonds, which it is said, will be used partly to pay off the $100,000,000 French banking credit renewed recently by J. P. Morgan and Company are expected to be offered at about 95 to yield 7 1/2 percent.

Mr. Lamont expressed the opinion that the successful flotation of the German loan indicated the recovery of Europe would progress satisfactorily. "Negotiations were transacted as smoothly as possible," he said, "and I do not expect any difficulties."

Robertson Sent Sympathy

A-P Official Tells Local Boosters How Work Is Progressing on Sections of Coast-to-Coast Road

Paying his third visit to the city in three years, H. A. Russell, of Ft. Scott, Kan., president of the Atlantic-Pacific Highway association, arrived here at noon from Cincinnati and held a luncheon-conference with local good roads boosters at the Ardall tea room, on Sixth street.

President Gilbert Monroe, of the Chamber of Commerce; Chairman W. H. Harsha and Vallee Harold, of the Chamber of Commerce Good Roads committee, and Manager Adam Friel, of the Chamber of Commerce, were in attendance at the conference.

Mr. Russell, who keeps in close touch with the progress being made on the improvement of the A-P Highway from New York City to Los Angeles, reported that, although considerable work is being done on the road between Portsmouth and Cincinnati, the road is not in the best of shape but that it is the best obtainable with the money available. Lack of finances is holding up the improvement program in numerous places along the route.

President Russell reported an 18-foot concrete road had been completed across the state of Illinois, with the exception of a four-mile gap, where a big fill is being made. Through Indiana the hard-surface road is open to travel all year, although it is not of the permanent type of construction. Through West Virginia the highway has progressed faster than expected. The route east of Charleston is through Beckley, Staunton, Lexington, Charlottesville and Washington.

Mr. Russell stressed the importance of the people from this section sending to congress a man who would use his influence in securing adequate federal funds for the completion of the road through this section. He urged the co-operation of all in securing sufficient funds for the permanent improvement of the Ohio river at the earliest possible time.

West of St. Louis the A-P highway is reported in good shape, with several states, including many miles of the road in their state system of road improvements. Federal money has been secured for the building of a stretch of the road through Indian reservations.

President Russell pointed out that the improved road will not mean only greater inter-city travel, but that it would afford a road to be traveled by thousands of tourists.

The Atlantic-Pacific highway is advertised as the shortest, most attractive and most desirable all-year route.

Ford Selling More Cars Abroad

DETROIT, MICH., October 17.—(By the United Press)—The Ford Motor Company is selling more products abroad this year than ever before. Between January 1st and October 1st 138,291 motor cars and trucks and 10,303 Fordson tractors were sold in foreign territory.

Argentina leads in the purchase of products, having taken 10,000 motor cars since the first of the year. The Sao Paulo revolution slowed down business there but 1,741 Ford units were sold in that district in the last eight months.

The company announces that a new Ford plant has been opened in Stockholm.

Colony on Wrangell Island Carried Off By Russians Belongs to U. S., Says Explorer

WASHINGTON, October 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A colony, intended to establish British rule on Wrangell Island in the Arctic ocean north of Siberia, was carried off by the Russian armed transport, Red October, which raised the Russian flag there August 20, it was learned here today.

NEW YORK, October 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who a year ago founded the colony on Wrangell Island, which is reported from Nome to have been carried off by a Russian transport, said today that the colony comprised thirteen Eskimos and Charles Wells, of Ullentown, Pa. The colony was not founded in behalf of Great Britain, but of the United States through an American corporation in Nome, Mr. Stefansson declared.

"The Russian claim to Wrangell Island is so weak as to be negligible from the historical or legal point of view," Mr. Stefansson continued. "No Russian ever saw Wrangell Island as far as we know until 1911. That was 62 years after the British discovered it and 30 years after the United States Steamships Corwin and Rogers planted the United States flag there in behalf of their government."

The explorer pointed out that he was a Canadian by birth and a long time resident of the United States. All his work on the island in behalf of these two countries and he was convinced from his historical studies that Great Britain and the United States were the only nations that had a claim to the island.

"For two years I sought to impress the British government with the need for colonizing Wrangell as a future base for inter-continental dirigible and airplane traffic, as well as a valuable immediate commercial asset, especially for furs and reindeer breeding, walrus hunting and sealing," said Stefansson. "But the British and Canadian governments, although recognizing their claim to the island by right of discovery and exploration, could not see my plans for colonization. So a year ago I transferred my personal interest to the American corporation in Nome and supervised colonization of the island under the leadership of the men from Pennsylvania."

Wrangell Island was described by Stefansson as being 80 to 90 miles long and 30 to 40 miles wide, lying approximately 300 miles from the coast of Alaska and 310 miles from Siberia. It never has been thoroughly explored.

Stefansson declared that enough had been learned to establish its commercial value as a source of supply for fox, polar bear and seal furs, for walrus and reindeer. He was convinced, he said, that it offered the most desirable site for a re-fueling and repair station in trans-oceanic dirigible and airplane commerce of the near future.

Europe No Longer In Tatters

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Continental Europe is no longer going about in tatters, and has begun to put on swank again in the gay manner of pre-war days. Germany in particular is absorbing huge quantities of the best British cloth. The German tailors are crying for Merino wool and only the finest quality will satisfy them, according to one British manufacturer. Orders are also increasing from France and Belgium.

Suits and overcoats for men have risen in price in England during the last few weeks, but, the tailors say, to increase in the cost of materials. The tailors of Saville Row and Saville street now charge eleven and twelve guineas or more for an autumn lounge suit such as they made a year ago for nine or ten guineas.

Veteran Mason and Odd Fellow Dies
SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 17.—W. W. Bean, said to be the oldest living Mason and Odd Fellow, died at the Ohio Masonic home this morning at the age of 100 years. Death followed an illness of only 10 days. The body will be sent to Massillon, his former home, for burial.

Mr. Bean celebrated his 100th anniversary last May 19, at which time he received a personal letter of congratulations from President Coolidge and other notables. He had been a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows orders for 76 years.

Colored Papers Are Publicity Purveyors

Fred G. Minor, publisher of The Crusader, a local colored newspaper, and The Ironton Star published for Ironton colored folks, has been honored by being selected as one of the first colored editors in the state who will receive released news from the State Republican Campaign headquarters at Columbus. The director of publicity of the Campaign organization selected the two papers as the mediums for getting publicity before the negro population of this section. They have promised to send him (each week) news from their headquarters at Columbus to be published weekly in his paper. Mr. Minor feels very elated over his success in securing this news and intends to give the readers of his paper some very live news relative to the attitude of the negro in this present political campaign.

OBITUARY

RALPH C. TABOR

(Huntington Herald-Dispatch)
Ralph C. Tabor, age 30, World War veteran and a traveling salesman, died yesterday morning in a local hospital following a short illness. The body will be taken to his home at Olive Hill, Ky., today and funeral services and interment will take place there Friday.

The services will be conducted by the Olive Hill Masonic Lodge of which Mr. Tabor was a member. Rev. J. P. Zimmerman will officiate.

Mr. Tabor was employed by Rogers Brothers, New York, and also by the Peters Manufacturing company, of St. Louis. He came to this city two weeks ago, but his condition became such that he had to be taken to a hospital a few days after his arrival. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. G. Tabor, of Olive Hill.

Buckhamman Freeman

Buckhamman Freeman, a well known and highly respected citizen of Portsmouth, passed away at his home in that village at 4:30 p. m. Thursday. His death was due to heart trouble, complicated with dropsy. He was born July 13, 1830, and was well known in Portsmouth. His wife, Mrs. Ida Windel Freeman, passed away on July 4 last. Mr. Freeman is survived by two brothers, James of Marion, O., and Charles of Portsmouth, and two sisters, Mrs. Jane Thompson and Mrs. Susan Thompson of Hurdon.

He was a cooper by trade, but for sometime had run a grocery in McDowell.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Windel Funeral Parlors on Offshore street at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Sells Property

Mrs. Eliza Fisher has sold her property, 1412 Fourth to Mrs. Gertrude Ball. The deal was made by the Copeland Realty company. Mrs. Fisher has purchased the Henry Beckman property 1826 Eleventh street, and will move to it in a few days. This deal was closed by the Peabody Realty Company.

Mrs. Merriman Anxious To Show Court That She Is A Medium; Charges Against Three Are Dismissed

(BULLETIN)
Late this afternoon, following a motion made by the state charges against Don and Louise Taylor were dismissed. The charges made against Mrs. Merriman were dismissed and a motion made by the defense, leaving Mrs. Merriman the sole defendant.

Don and Louise Taylor, who were brought before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court yesterday on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses was nearing the final stage Friday, and from present indications the case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

The state's case, introduction of its evidence in chief before court adjourned late Thursday and the defense held its opening in the morning session Friday when the four defendants took the stand in their own behalf.

Defends Spiritualism
On the stand Mrs. Merriman, who is 32 years old and rather comely, declared that she is a medium, possessing the power to communicate with the spirit of a deceased person with a living person and to heal the sick and afflicted through prayer. She vigorously defended the doctrine of spiritualism, attacked and ridiculed by the prosecution, and even offered to demonstrate her work before the court and jury, but Judge Thomas thought that it would only tend to confuse the jurors and the unusual requests were denied.

The witnesses admitted receiving money from Mrs. Rebecca Snedecor and Mrs. Attie Condit on several occasions in the nature of donations to the church and as loans which she claimed she had expected to repay. She described the various money transactions and asserted that the money was given or loaned to her voluntarily to pay her bills because the church was not paying expenses. She denied making any representations about having $50,000 coming from her deceased mother's estate, or $1,000 being due her from the American Research Society, the national organization of the spiritualist church. She explained that the other defendants from all connection with the money transactions.

Anxious To Demonstrate
On one occasion Mrs. Merriman during her recital asked the privilege of traveling, declaring she was willing to do anything to prove to the court and jury that she is just what she pretended to be—a medium. This request was also denied. The witness gave in detail her experiences over more than twenty years in spiritualism, describing the various kinds or branches of the work.

Mrs. Merriman was subjected to a right cross-examination by Prosecutor Skelton and she appeared a bit nervous as the prosecutor led her over her operations in Canton, Mansfield, Toledo, Cleveland and other cities. She said she came to Portsmouth with her husband and child last March to organize a church here, but received no salary. For a time she said she conducted church in Ben Hur hall and classes at her home at 1514 High street, where she lived during her stay of several months here. She admitted having seen a pass-book issued to "Miss Lila Merriman," bearing a purport of deposit of $50,000 in the Cleveland Trust company and which was found in effects at the High street house. She denied ownership of the book.

All Money Used
Mrs. Merriman asserted that she had used all the money obtained here in the payment of bills contracted in this city and was almost broke when she left here on September 1, but admitted that one Frank Sowash, of Youngstown, had given her $50,000 on going to that city after her husband's death. The money was hidden in Youngstown, and she was not required to tell the hiding place for fear someone within hearing of her voice might have business in that city.

Louise Taylor, Don Taylor, brother of Mrs. Merriman, and the latter's husband, Lloyd B. Merriman, disclaimed any knowledge or connection with the money transactions and declared their innocence of the offense charged. The Taylors claimed they were on their way to Pittsburgh, when, on reaching Canton learned that Mrs. Merriman was in a hospital here seriously ill and immediately came to Portsmouth.

Attorney C. M. Searl opened the argument for the state and he was followed by Attorney Cecil Tidd for the prosecution. Attorneys Joseph T. McKelthwait and A. R. Campbell, Jr., appeared for the defense and requested the dismissal of the charges against the defendants and Prosecutor Skelton withdrew for the state.

Star Witnesses
Mrs. Snedecor and Mrs. Attie Condit, 1214 Summit street, were the star witnesses for the state. Mrs. Snedecor was the first witness and she gave an interesting recital of the circumstances under which was induced to part with her money, in sums ranging from $5 for treatments to $500 as a result of attending the seances conducted by the defendants at their home on High street. During which comes Mrs. Merriman "traveled" and pretended to possess the power as a medium to communicate the spirit of Charles Snedecor, deceased son of the witness, killed on the battlefields of France during the World War, with his mother. The witness related through Mrs. Merriman's voice that the medium had told her the medium was hard-broke and needed money and advised her to loan the medium all the money she had but not to worry as she would get it back at the end of four days.

Key Missing at Seance
Mrs. Snedecor told of a door key to her home disappearing from her pocket during one of the seances at the High street retreat of the spiritualists several days before she discovered that her money had been taken from the picture frame and her son's blue trousers had disappeared. She said the witness again told her to quit worrying about the money as she would get it all back and to leave a key in the missing key where it sure enough was found, she said.

On cross examination Mrs. Snedecor stated that when talking through Mrs. Merriman as a medium she thought it was the voice of the spirit of her deceased son, Clarence, and relied upon that when she told her to give the medium money. The witness also told of Mrs. Merriman making certain representations in respect to having $50,000 coming from her deceased mother's estate and $1,000 due her from the American Research Society which would enable her to repay the money loaned in three or four days.

"Husband's Voice" Heard

Mrs. Condit testified that she attended the meetings at the Merriman home and that she paid Mrs. Merriman money on four separate occasions amounting in all to $1,050 after her deceased husband's voice talking through Mrs. Merriman as a medium told her to be grateful and to help the medium in any way she could, even advising her to give up the last cent she had. The witness was unable to explain why she parted with the money or whether it was given voluntarily or merely loaned. She described how Mrs. Merriman would "rave and rave about money" every time she would go to the seances and told how, on the occasion of giving her $550, she found herself in an automobile with Mrs. Merriman and Don Taylor on the way to the bank to draw out the money. The witness said she had $110 left on deposit in the bank and that Mrs. Merriman wanted it all, which demand was refused.

Frank W. Sheridan, advertising manager of the Times, testified as to Mrs. Merriman making representations which were run in the newspaper on various dates advertising his wife as a medium.

"Convinced of Fraud"
Mrs. Laura Cline of Jackson street, of attending a meeting at the Merriman home when the medium pretended to talk with her deceased sister, declared that she soon became convinced that it was all a fraud and left the unsuccessful seance.

Sherman Lykins and wife, Nora Lykins, 1606 High street, testifying to observing Mrs. Merriman enter the Snedecor home by the back door on one occasion while her husband entered the front way.

Physicians Testify
Drs. O. D. Tait and J. S. Rardin, testifying as experts, declared that it was not possible for the spirit of a deceased person to control and operate the organs of speech of a living person and communicate with a third person.

At this juncture, the state rested and Henry Cooper, front and Gay streets, was the first witness called by the defense. He told of attending seances at the Merriman home on several occasions and declared that he conversed with the spirit of Mrs. Snedecor's deceased son as well as his own deceased relatives. He stated that the medium acted as though dead when in a trance and that these spells lasted from 20 to 30 minutes.

Attorneys C. M. Searl and Cecil Tidd are assisting Prosecutor S. Anselm Skelton in handling the case for the state, and Attorneys Joseph T. McKelthwait and A. R. Campbell, Jr., appeared for the defendants.

From all indications, the case will go to the jury this afternoon following the arguments of counsel and general charges of the court.

Falls on Wet Floor; Litteral Suffers Fractured Skull; Condition Is Serious

Charles Litteral, 33, married, truck driver for the Stockham company, remains in a serious condition in Mercy hospital as the result of a fracture of the skull sustained Wednesday in a fall at the Ice Cream Bottling company's plant, on Tenth street.

Litteral, who lives at 1023 Chillicothe street, was coming out of the ice house at the Tenth-street plant, when he slipped and fell on the wet floor.

He had his ice tongs on his shoulder at the time and, in falling, his head struck with considerable force on the ice tongs.

He paid no attention to the injury at the time and drove his truck to the Carey Roberts grocery, Lincoln street and Robinson avenue, where he was stricken with blindness and fell again.

Office of Dr. Oscar McKelthwait and later was removed to the hospital, where he remained in a critical condition for 30 hours, with but little chance for recovery.

Mr. Litteral remained blind for 30 hours and was unconscious most of the time. Early yesterday he started having short periods of consciousness and today was reported conscious all the time. He took a decided change for the better late yesterday.

NEW YORK, October 17.—(By the United Press)—Odds against Senator Robert M. La Follette's chances of going to the White House lengthened today from 8 to 1 to 9 to 1, according to J. S. Fried and Co., Wall Street, betting commissioners.

Dechadenes and Company, announced they have $100,000 to bet against $25,000, that President Coolidge will be re-elected which are odds of 4 to 1, the best yet reported for the president.

New Schedule of Gas Rates For Sixty Ohio Cities

COLUMBUS, O., October 17.—(By the Associated Press)—A new schedule of rates calling for a service charge of seventy-five cents a month over and above the regular gas bills was filed with the Ohio Public Utilities Commission today by the Logan Gas Company, which sells gas in sixty Ohio cities, districts and divisions.

The schedule will be taken under advisement by the commission and as soon as the customary protests are filed a public hearing on the proposal will be held.

The schedule provides for abolition of the old ninety cents a month minimum which has been charged whether any gas has been used or not.

BOWSER AIMS HIGH But in Trying to Get in Napoleon's Class the Odds Were Against Him

MR. BOWSER had a little time to spare the other noon today, and he dropped in an auction room to have a quiet laugh over the way some men can be gulled and humbugged. He was just in time to hear the auctioneer shouting:

"What a fine lot! What gentlemen, there must be some magnificent things here, I feel sure. I am selling you a fountain—a fountain for your front yard that will immediately add $2,000 to the value of your property. Surely some intelligent individual in this intelligent audience must have got the idea that it is a fountain syringe. I am selling."

"Thirty and a quarter!" called a pale, seedy-looking little chap. He had only fifteen cents in his pockets, but he wanted to do something for a compliment.

"Jumping Jerusalem, gentlemen, wake up!" the crowd was urged. "Here's a golden chance to plant a real ornament in front of your house, which will ever afterward be referred to as an estate. Kings, dukes, earls, bankers and congressmen all have 'em. Get in their class. A fountain affords comfort and beauty, marks its owner as a man of wealth and refinement, and as it gently rippled in the moonlight it lulls one into sweet dreamland. Let a tooth ache or a stomach pain. I'm here to sell, not to make presents."

That night Mr. Bowser said nothing to Mrs. Bowser about his purchase. She had proposed to give her a surprise. She had always discouraged him when he talked fountain for the front yard, but he now felt confident she would be the most enthusiastic of the two when it was set up. It so happened that she went to visit her mother the following day, and the fountain arrived and was connected during her absence. When she returned one afternoon Mr. Bowser got a phone call at his office.

"Hello!" she said. "Well, I am back, but something queer has happened. I keep passing what I think is our house, and yet it can't be. In the front yard is a fountain, and—" have some fine lawsuits on your hands by tomorrow. Besides, the yard is full of little ragamuffins, splashing mud and water all over the place. I am returning to mother for the fountain, but he now felt confident she would be the most enthusiastic of the two when it was set up. ger's hat as he stormed through the gate, and the affair then became a sprinting match, with everybody breaking the Olympic records except his. Bowser's hat came over the fence occasionally after Napoleon Bowser had won the battle, but he held his ground and order was finally restored.

"Yes, that's our house, of course," he said.

Then the neighbors poured forth to speak their minds. The peace of the former quiet neighborhood had been upset by the hoodlums, and they had been nothing but shouting and swearing and yelling all that afternoon they told him. As a result, a dozen people were in bed with chills and fever, he was curtly informed, and not a head in the neighborhood but ached and ached. That fountain must go.

Mr. Bowser's head whirled, but he talked up and backed that fountain for all he was worth. Greatness was coming his way, and was worth fighting for, but he felt way down in his boots that his future was to be spent on an ordinary piece of property, and estates were not for him. Napoleon had an army to protect his fountain, but he was quite alone in the matter.

Entering his house, he got another rude shock. Mrs. Bowser was nowhere to be seen. She must have made good her threat to return to her mother. To cap the climax, he found a note on the kitchen table informing him that the cook was also on a vacation and would remain away until that fountain was removed. Well, he wasn't hungry anyway. After a glass of milk and a crack of the signed and sealed door to the front yard and enjoy the new ornament for one evening at least. It was seeping water in five or six directions, and the bronze image of a cherub in the center was black with mud.

"By George!" raved the angry Bowser, "but this is too much. If I ever lay eyes again on those little foreigners I'll skin 'em alive!" Its opportunity came almost immediately. A procession of half-naked youngsters came up the block just then and slowly passed the house with yells of derision. The leader carried a big bouquet, all were munching candy, and every march was covered from head to foot with face-powder. Mr. Bowser recognized the despoilers of his estate instantly. He also realized that the beautiful peace-offerings he had dropped in his excitement were in the hands of the enemy. Rushing out of the gate he gave chase, and he was not far from a block or two, but it would have needed months of training to have caught that bunch, and he finally sank down on the curbstone to regain his breath. It had been an afternoon of excitement, but there was more to come. Just as he began to breathe a bit easier a boy rushed up to say: "Mr. Bowser, you better hurry home!"

ONCE upon a time a young couple were so happy they became afraid of the future. Six long months of married bliss, without even a cross word from the grocery bills came in on Saturday night, seemed to stamp them as unnatural people, and they began to wonder how such a condition of affairs would end. Other people they knew carried black eyes and scratched noses and howled for doctors, but they had no need of doctors or lawyers. One morning Hiram Codfish nudged his wife on his knee and said:

"Sarah Ann, you are the loveliest critter in the hull county. I wouldn't trade you for the prize heifer at the county fair, but you are not bossy enough. Why don't you tell me where I get off occasionally?"

"What, be cross to my H?" she asked in astonishment. "Never!" "But you ain't like other folks," Sarah Ann continued. "Take my ma, for instance. She had pa for the half an hour after they left the altar."

"Yes, we are different," she agreed. "Even when my ma and pa were eatin' their weddin' breakfast she was makin' it plain to him just who was to be boss of the roast. We order change before a calamity happens from too much happiness, but how I love it!"

"I dunno," sighed the overhappy husband. "I could start a good old family row with anyone but you. Waal, mornin' mornin' will turn up later on to rock the old homestead." Implementing kiss No. 9,876,543 on her marble brow he left the house to do his ploughing, when suddenly an idea came to him. Hitting up old Dobbin he raced for the city to consult a wise man, who had gone into the wisdom business after traveling with a circus, and had thus studied human nature from the proper angle.

"Oh, sage and sages," said Hiram: "oh, counselor of stars and depleter of bankrolls, how much to test of a few chinks of wisdom for me this fine day?"

"Cost you ten bucks, sonny," was the business-like reply. "But it used to be only two dollars," protested the caller.

"Those were pre-war prices, my son," chuckled the wise man. "I dig my share of the trenches, and now propose to see the other fellow do some digging himself. Come across, my boy, and never mind quoting General Sherman."

With a heavy sigh Hiram Codfish removed a woolen sock from his foot and counted out ten dollars in nickels and dimes. Then he continued:

had made his decision. Removing his coat and vest he rolled up his sleeves and glared at the thing that might or might not have had something to do with Napoleon's greatness. Finally he started for the collar. When he returned there was an axe over his shoulder, and for the next five minutes he was busy smashing that fountain. After that was done the following wire went to Mrs. Bowser:

"Oh, sage and sages," said Hiram: "oh, counselor of stars and depleter of bankrolls, how much to test of a few chinks of wisdom for me this fine day?"

65,000 To See Michigan-Illinois Game Saturday

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Four western conference football games of championship consideration tomorrow will mark the progress of the season from the preliminary stage, with the Illinois-Michigan game at Urbana, dedicating the Illinois stadium, the outstanding contest.

The vanguard of the upwards of 67,000 probable spectators at the clash between the twin champions of last season already were crowding Urbana today. Both big eleven went through practice rounds on the battle field today, with Zupke, Illinois coach, only tentatively decided on his lineup and Yost, veteran Michigan mentor, noncommittal regarding his plans.

Forty Indiana huskies made up the gridiron contingent which entered for Chicago. A changed lineup was indicated in the final practice. Chicago devoted its practice to kicking.

Minnesota, enroute to Madison to engage Wisconsin, halted in Milwaukee today to timber up. All of the regulars participated in workouts.

Northwestern's backfield underwent a last minute shift because of the scholastic ineptitude of the Stepano, who played in the preliminary games. Coach Thistledwaite also shifted Captain Bob Welles to quarterback. Purdue, Northwestern's guest, held a short signal and kicking drill and entrained for Evansville.

Ohio State and Iowa, scheduled with Ohio Wesleyan and Lawrence, ended their preparations today with light workouts.

Firpo vs. Fulton

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Although watching the outcome of legal proceedings in which Luis Firpo is involved, Tex Rickard is going ahead with plans for a match at Madison Square Garden in November between Firpo and Fred Fulton, the Minnesota brawler. The promoter expects to stage the contest on November 14 or 28.

Another South American heavyweight, Quintin Romero, of Chile, probably will appear on the same card with Jim Maloney of Boston as an opponent in the semi-final match.

Rickard plans to make an all-heavyweight carnival and probably will give Arthur Garvey, of Holyoke, Mass., former Notre Dame football star, an opportunity to show his flaccid prowess in a preliminary bout.

Vance Is Bowler

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Dizzy Vance, great Brooklyn pitcher, who leads all major league moundmen this year in number of victories and total strikeouts, keeps his salary arm in condition by constant bowling.

Vance, who is an all-around athlete, spends much of his time during the off-season bowling. He is a consistent "200" shooter on the alleys.

Cincinnati Team Will Be Revamped

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—Realizing the importance of starting early to build up the team for next season, Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Nationals, leaves Saturday for the Pacific coast to look over several players who have been recommended to him, with a view to purchasing them for the Reds.

The passing of Daubert, the release of Duncan to Washington and the imminent release of George Burns, who will undoubtedly become manager of a minor league club, makes it necessary to add strength to the team.

If the proposed class A championship series between St. Paul and the winner of the Coast League pennant is played, Hendricks will see a number of prospects in action.

All Stars Play in McArthur Sunday

Earl Smith will lead his All Star line back to McArthur for another diamond conquest Sunday with the crack aggregation representing that thriving mining town. The River City crew conquered the McArthur crew a week ago and Manager Smith and his pupils are confident of repeating the dose this time out.

The players who will perform under the Portsmouth banner include Jones; Blake, m.; Brennan, 1; Smith, 3; Bridwell, 2; Barber, 1; P. Keyser, 1; McDaniel, c.; Lewis, p.

Eh Golfers, Speaking of Driving

ATLANTA, Ga., October 17.—Southern golf enthusiasts who followed Cyril J. H. Toller, British star amateur in two matches here, declare they witnessed the longest driving in the history of golf in Atlanta, the home of Bobby Jones, national amateur champion, and former open title holder.

At the East Lake course, Toller's tee shot on No. 5 got a good 300 yards and followed with a brassie that was so long and straight that he was nicely on the green in two puttings for an eagle.

Seasoned veterans of the course unhesitatingly gave him a record on the 425-yard tenth, where his tee shot left him the easiest of pitches to the green.

At Druid Hills, on the sixth, Toller's drive carried fully 300 yards and left him an open and short pitch to the green.

With the line ten feet to the left, the ball would have rolled on the green, experts present declared.

"I never saw that done before and never expect to see it again," was the comment of Bobby Jones, after the shot.

Flapper Bandit On Trial For Killing Man

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—A jury in the trial of Violet Dickman, 30-year-old "flapper bandit" charged with first degree murder in the killing of Louis Hirsch during a holdup in St. Louis, has been completed after the examination of 150 witnesses.

The jury is composed entirely of men all women having been excused or challenged.

The defendant was permitted to bring her baby, born in prison, to the city hall while she faced court.

At the conclusion of the long session she and the child were returned to prison. Her father Milton O. Dickerson, Salisbury, Md., sat near her in court.

She is accused jointly with Charles Oeffinger of shooting Hirsch. Oeffinger was convicted of first degree murder.

Cult Leader "Jesus Christ Revealed," Is Not "King Benjamin"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.—That a religious cult leader, arrested here early today is not "King Benjamin," Purcell, fugitive head of the House of David colony at Bolton Harbor, Michigan, was the belief expressed by police officials tonight.

A definite description of Purcell, who Michigan authorities were requested to forward, was awaited, however, by police.

The man held, who declares himself to be "Jesus Christ Revealed," did not answer the description of "King Benjamin" carried in news dispatches.

Insane Farmer Kills Two At Legal Hearing

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Obsessed with the idea that his estate was being dissipated by court costs, Martin L. Warren, a retired farmer, today opened fire with two revolvers at a referee's hearing, killing Mrs. Anna Piskis, his mother-in-law, and her daughter Sophie, and wounding Irving Tompkins, a lawyer.

Four other prominent lawyers, a girl stenographer, and Stephen Warren, the slayer's brother, escaped the bullets, at least 10 of which were fired.

Warren made no attempt to escape, surrendering without a struggle when two policemen rushed into the office with drawn revolvers.

Warren is 53 years old and has been living apart from his wife for several years. He was recently released from the state insane asylum, his wife said.

Kidnaped By Mob, Forced To Marry

Girl He Betrayed
GREENWOOD, S. C., Oct. 17.—C. F. Edge, Greenwood broker, told a story today of being kidnaped by a hooded mob and forced to marry a girl he is alleged to have wronged.

According to Ed's story, he was kidnaped off Main street, by five hooded men and taken to the country where a wilderness wedding had been arranged for him. More than 100 masked men took part in the ceremony, he said.

After the "marriage" he was given a lecture and warned that the ceremony had been performed by the Ku Klux Klan, he said.

Edge denied any misconduct with the girl involved in the wedding, and will follow counsel of his attorneys who told him the vows he had been forced to take were not binding.

DRIVER DIES

ASHLAND, Ky., Oct. 17.—George Kazee, driver for the Hunt-Forbes Construction Company, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when his wagon overturned with him while driving down into a sand pit. Kazee was crushed by the heavy wagon and died in the King's Daughters Hospital.

FIREMAN ILL

Mascum Sparks, fireman in the New Boston fire department is ill at his home in that village. He was taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion while on duty and had to be removed home.

By winning three consecutive games from Shook's Six last night at the High School Gym, the Doctors forged into the lead in the B division of the City Volley Ball League. The second game which was won by a 21-19 count was an exciting contest but the other two were loosely played.

Doctors
Fitch, Tatje, Wikoff, Rapp, J. Williams, J. H. Finney.
Shook's Six
Shrimps, Copelan, Herms, Fluke, Evans, Roberts.

Games between the Pirates and Yankees in the A division of the league were postponed but some of the members of the two teams who were on hand, in order to keep in trim, organized two teams, the Dogs and Cats, and started three practice games. As is commonly the case the Dogs had the Cats up, proverbial time during two of the contests, the Dogs winning by the scores 21-19. The second contest was won by the Cats 21-14.

Cats
Wells, Fluke, Pratt, Peel, Holbrook, Arthurs.
Dogs
Schinsky, Martin, J. Finney, McDaniel, J. Williams, Vandervort.

Brilliant Southern Orator To Be Greeted by Large Audience; Meeting Starts at 8 O'clock

The stage is "all set" for the big Democratic mass meeting in the High school auditorium tonight, when that brilliant orator, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, and one of the really "big guns" on the Democratic side, will appear as the principal speaker and discuss the issues of the national campaign.

On the platform with him tonight will be Mrs. Harrison Ewing, of Cleveland, who is said to be a splendid speaker, and will have a special message for the women voters.

The rally will mark the one big meeting of the local campaign, and Democrats and others interested in the issues of the campaign will turn out en masse tonight to greet the speakers.

The distinguished Mississippi leader will arrive in the city late this afternoon from Irons, where he will be met by a committee of local Democrats and escorted here by motor, following a rally he addressed in the Lawrence county capital.

The meeting will start promptly at eight o'clock. Chairman J. Alden Staker of the campaign committee will preside and introduce the speakers. A band concert will precede the meeting.

The following vice-presidents have been named for the meeting:

Geo. Kricker, H. B. Taylor, Valtee Harold, Dr. S. B. McKeehan, John Jones, John C. Bauer, C. E. Dowling, J. Westley Gableman, Simon Straus, Erwin T. Gehres, Jacob T. Gehres, Adam Frick, Wm. A. Inman, Joseph E. Kountz, Wm. E. Cook, John F. Dudley, J. Q. Payne, H. D. McLaughlin, Albert D. Trosel, Dr. Oral D. Tatle, E. W. Westphal, K. N. Nagel, Dr. R. W. DeCrow, C. J. Marling, Dr. E. O. ## YEGGMEN SHATTER SAFE IN WAVERLY GARAGE; BURGLARIZE ANOTHER; LEAVE IN STOLEN CAR

Special to Times

WAVERLY, Oct. 17.—Yeggmen, who may be the same persons who recently made a rich haul in The Hushes store, Gallia street, Portsmouth, invaded Waverly early this morning and shattered the big iron safe in Al Foster's garage, Market street.

Their reward was $2.50 in old coins, all other valuables having been removed from the safe. The yeggs evidently were money-bent as they did not disturb any papers in the safe. The robbery was discovered by Mr. Foster when he opened his place of business this morning.

The yeggs jammed the safe on seats removed from machines and then blew the door off.

A. O. Goff's garage at Fifth and Market street was also visited by thieves last night and it is believed here that they went from the Goff garage to the Foster garage as in the latter place a big hammer was found which Mr. Goff says was stolen from his place of business.

The thieves left the Goff garage in a stolen Ford, which was parked in it and owned by David Armbrust of this place. It was recovered this morning in this village. The thieves stole six lunettes and several of these were also recovered. One of the lines on the car was flat and it is believed that this caused the thieves to abandon the machine. Pat Littlejohn, who lives across the street from the Goff garage, says he heard men prowling around it late last night, but before his son could investigate, the thieves had departed. They broke one lock to get into the garage and a lock on another door to remove the Armbrust machine.

Two Prisoners Break Jail at Waverly; Sheriff Awakes To Find Door Unlocked

Special to Times

WAVERLY, O., October 17.—Two alleged liquor violators, Joseph Thompson, who says his home is in Dayton, and Carl Lee of Alma, this county, calmly walked out of the county jail last night and are still enjoying their freedom.

When Sheriff William Anderson awoke this morning he found the jail door open and a cursory examination showed that only two prisoners had flown. After unlocking the big cell door the prisoners walked to the kitchen, unlocked the door and then disappeared, each probably going in a different direction.

Sheriff Anderson is confronted with a dilemma. How did the prisoners unlock the big door? He says it was not left open. He is of the opinion that material to make a key to unlock the door was smuggled into the prisoners and that after much tinkering the door was finally unlocked and while he was asleep the only two prisoners in the Pike county jail, looked around, snuffed the air of the free, and then stealthily departed.

A description of the down prisoners has been furnished to officials in nearby cities.

See 24th and Waller St.—Adv. 11.

THE FARMER AND THE SOLDIER

THE Republican national administration denied and scorned the soldier, who bore arms.

It outcasts the soldier, who enabled the fighter to bear arms and use them valiantly for victory.

This latter soldier was the farmer, for was it not exultantly proclaimed that food would win the war. The farmer produced the food and the war was won, so that makes him as much of a soldier as he who went forward to actual battle.

And how has the Republican administration rejected him? The manner thereof is a plain and painful story of a nation's ingratitude.

Shortly after the Harding administration began to function, Senator McCormick, Republican, from Illinois, introduced his not famous, but infamous deflation resolution and it was adopted, as the policy of Harding and his successor. Under its operation the federal reserve banks began a period of rapid and drastic deflation of currency and credits. Banks called in their loans, prices of farm products went down like a plummet and the era of agricultural depression was begun and has since continued and deepened. The farmer found he had to compete for labor at war time wages, but he had no protection in his own production and with prices on what he had to sell decreased by fifty percent he had to pay anywhere above a hundred percent for the machinery he must have while the things he had to buy in order to live half way decently, were even more than doubled in cost.

True, he was thrown a sop in the way of "protection" for his products, but this amounted to nothing, because that same tariff shut off sales to foreign consumers and the increased surplus at home sent prices further down.

There is no doubt his deplorable condition is known to the administration. More than that it is admitted thereby, as shown in the fact that Coolidge is right now, in effort to cajole them to his support, promising the farmers that he will appoint a commission to study plans for their relief.

Fine, super excellent. Devoting better than three years to putting and keeping the farmer in the hole and then pledging a commission to take its own time in helping to dig him out!

FLAUNTING THE FLAG

A group of Republican spellbinders are touring across the country in automobiles, stopping here and there and everywhere to harangue groups of the gaping populace.

At the ancient village of Philadelphia they put on a stunt that was a roaring farce—they presented themselves with a flag, clumsily disguising it to deceive the multitude. The day before they arrived they sent a courier ahead with a flag, with instructions to deliver it to a female member of the local Four Hundred and inform her that she was to make the presentation speech.

The woman was duly elated over the distinction and to properly put it on she summoned her whole entourage of the William Penn Ladies' Club, the secretary, the treasurer, the imposing array of vice-presidents and all the millionaires' wives.

It was a gorgeous event, it was epochal in the fair donor's political life, until she unfurled the flag. Then she almost fainted. She held in her hands, not a vivid, glistening example of Old Glory, but a cheap piece of bunting, a bit grimy and a whole lot faded.

"Oh, my," she exclaimed later, when reciting her chagrin. "I was never so surprised in all my life as when I saw that old cheese cloth flag. If they had left it to us we would have presented a nice silk flag, one that would have been an honor to the state, when carried across the country."

"That's right," chimed in her companion, the chairwoman of the speakers' bureau. "We had nothing to do with it. A member of the caravan came here with it the day before yesterday."

And all the ladies of the club are so mad.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—Thoughts while strolling home from $15,000 to $20,000 a year, standing still. They are known as Fashion Pirates. They make four trips to Paris a year and beat the so-called legitimate dress-makers back with the latest frocks. Their pirating is peddled to the cheaper manufacturers and designers, intended for Fifth Avenue exclusiveness, are flooding Broadway and Grand street almost overnight. They haunt the capitals of the world in search of the beautiful. Some Fashion Pirates resort to bribery, but as a rule they depend on friendships with the mannish. Fashion piracy is looked upon as dishonorable by exclusive importers, but there is nothing they can do about it. It is one of the perils of the business.

Comic supplement idea: A wife carrying two babies and a husband a bird cage. That's 50-50 stuff. The track followers retreating from the roar of thundering hoofs and cheering crowds. And nearly all go to Breakfast Club's.

Clerks wearing polo helmets. Clubmen in windows adjusting the piece-meal for the evening paper. A famous reformed criminal pale face. Dreamy eyes, and the hint of spiritual pallor. Fifteen years ago he used to crack safes in country banks.

Idle taxi drivers spinning long-winded tales. The Broadway razzle-dazzle begins. The alley-way of a burlesque theatre. Low clowns practicing kicking each other in the pants. The roar of tom-toms and the swirl of tramps and troupeuses.

Soon be time for breakfast saucers. Hot dog! The melange of cheap perfumes. Drooping buckster wagon horses. Blondes, brunettes and red-heads. O, to hear a mocking bird sing in the eucalyptus tree. Or the gr-rump of a bull frog!

There are about twenty women along Fashion Row—the dressmaker.

In the beginning theatrical producers sneered at the movie. It was considered a catch penny device for peep shows. Today they are the movie as the biggest competitor. But now the theatre and the movie men see their greatest danger in the radio. Many secret conclaves have been held along the Rialto. The radio has made a deep inroad into the earnings of the theatrical and movie moguls.

Three of the smartest hotels in New York have discharged all house detectives. They have come to the conclusion they are an affront to the guest. House detectives have made many bungles by their prying and lack of tact that have not only lost patronage but resulted in heavy lawsuits. "We are taking the position," said one hotel man, "that the guest is going to conduct himself as much as much to lose as we have by a lack of proper conduct." There has never been any reason for a hotel to assume that every arrival was a crook.

LOCKWOOD SAYS DAVIS HAS NOT PROVEN CHARGES

WASHINGTON, October 17—(By the Associated Press)—George B. Lockwood, former secretary of the Republican national committee today telegraphed John W. Davis that the latter's public statement issued last night in Illinois had failed to establish proof of the charges made by the Democratic presidential nominee regarding the indictment of Senator Wheeler, of Montana.

In his statement Mr. Davis quoted testimony before a senate committee touching on Mr. Lockwood's connection with the case and declared that even if Mr. Lockwood were "a person of such high character as to be beyond reproach," his earlier telegram on the subject, the tone of that message made a reply unnecessary.

"Replying to your statement," said the telegram by Mr. Lockwood today, "any citizen important enough for you to attack on the stump is important enough to be entitled to an answer when he demands proof of your charges which you have failed to give. You charged without justification in your Terre Haute speech that I was involved in a criminal conspiracy to 'frame up' on Senator Wheeler. You know as a lawyer that Senator Wheeler was regularly indicted by a grand jury composed of his Montana neighbors, not in Washington.

"Do you really think it a crime to discover evidence of a Democratic senator's malfeasance and turn it over to the legally established tribunals for prosecution of crime, while a virtue for your friend Wheeler to air the testimony of criminals against public officials in a court of inquisition, governed by no rules of law or evidence? Do you have a right where a public official is charged with betrayal of his trust he ought to be free from prosecution because he is a member of your political party, and that those who bring to the notice of the public and the courts the official misdoings of public officials should be branded as criminals for doing it?

"This is the only fair conclusion that can be drawn from your statement."

SOMETIMES

Across the helix of yesterday. He sometimes comes to me. A little lad just back from play—

The lad I used to be.

And yet he smiles so wistfully. Once he has crept within, I wonder if he hopes to see

The man I might have been.

Absolutely Dependable

During the financial troubles of some years ago an Irishman and his wife stood in the crowd of anxious creditors before the door of a bank.

"Nora, draw out your money," urged the husband. "An' sure, Patrick, I won't."

"But, Nora, ye must draw it out."

"Pat, an' I won't draw my money out at all."

"Nora, an' don't ye know they'll lose your money for ye if ye don't draw it out?"

"An' sure, Patrick, ain't they better able to lose it than we are."

MODERN
Dan—"Do you love me?"
Nan—"I'll let you know" after I've had a psychological test to determine the question."

Heavy Labor
Wife—"I suppose you've had a hard day at the bank."
Third Vice-president—"Yes, dear, I heard three stories I'd heard before."

NOT SAFE YET
"Is your son out of danger yet?"
"No; the doctor is going to make three or four more visits."

WHAT WAS IT
The story is told of a veteran of the civil war who returned to the home of his boyhood to attend a banquet given by the old boys. The diners were all men he had known as youngsters. He expected them to talk over old times. Instead, one talked incessantly about his bad liver; another discoursed on his weak heart; a third had a lot to say about his kidney trouble, and so it went on. When the veteran returned to his home he was asked how he enjoyed the banquet.

"Banquet?" he replied, showing vexation. "It wasn't a banquet. It was an organ recital."

Force of Habit
Husband—"What's the matter, dear?"

Bride—"I've been trying to light the cookstove, and every time I strike a match I light a cigarette instead."

"Sh' Ver" Difficult
"Zat choo, Bill?"

"Yes."

"Well, shay, tell me where I am."

"Why, you're right in front of your own house."

"Sufferin' catfish! Thash th' place I been tryin' to get away from all evenin'!"

SHELLEY REVISED
In an East-end school, a mistress was reading to her class Shelley's "Ode to a Skylark." To test the intelligence of her scholars, she asked if they could put into different words, expressing the same meaning the line "Hail to thee, blithe spirit! Bird thou never wert."

An arm shot up from the back row.

"Well, Johnny, let us hear how you would put it."

"Hi! Cockey, you ain't no blinkin' bird!"

Th' reason why paupers are so blamed scarce under prohibition is because they git poisoned before they kin qualify for th' poor house. What th' average father can't understand is why th' public schools don't teach his boy what an archipelago is instead of puttin' it up t' him.
